ASPAC MEETING

The Asian Studies on the Pacific Coast (ASPAC) will hold their 1991 meeting in Bellingham, Washington. Submissions should be sent to Henry Schwarz, ASPAC Conference Chair, Center for East Asian Studies, Western Washington University, Bellingham, WA 98225 (206)676-3041.

The 1992 meeting will be held in San Luis Obispo, California. Submissions should be sent to Barbara Mori, Social Sciences Department, Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, California (805)756-2011.

GENDER AND SOCIETY

Gender and Society solicits papers for a special issue which is planned for publication in September 1992. The theme of the issue is "Transforming Social Knowledge: The Interlocking of Race, Class, and Gender".

This special topics issue of Gender and Society will focus on race, class, and gender. Papers should focus on the transformation of scholarship with an emphasis on the structural intersections of class, race, and gender. They are seeking analytical papers that can be empirical, theoretical, or practice-oriented. Central to this special issue is the reconstruction of social knowledge through the social locations of women and men within the context of class, race, ethnicity, and gender. These should constitute the primary categories formulated within a framework that demonstrates their interlocking nature. Gender should be central to the analysis.

Special issue editors include: Doris Y. Wilkinson, The DuBois Institute, Harvard University, Esther Ngan-Ling Chow, The American University, and Maxine Baca Zinn, University of Michigan - Flint. Please submit manuscripts to: Margaret L. Andersen, Editor, Gender & Society, Department of Sociology, University of Delaware, Newark, Delaware, 19716. The deadline for submission of manuscripts is May 1, 1991.

AAAS MEETING

The Association for Asian American Studies (AAAS) invites submissions of proposals for a paper, a workshop or a panel at the Association's Eighth Annual Meeting. The meeting will be held at the Ala Moana Hotel in Honolulu, Hawaii from May 29-31, 1991.

The theme, "New Visions: Diversity, Community, Power", will challenge students of Asian/Ethnic American Studies to broaden the focus of their studies of Asian Americans to include groups of recent arrivals to the United States, as well as Pacific Islands' people. Having the 1991 Conference in Hawaii underscores the theme and provides a setting to further expand the horizons of Asian American Studies.

Send seven copies of your proposal to Marrion Kelly, AAAS Program Committee Co-chair, University of Hawaii at Manoa, Ethnic Studies Program, East West Road 4, Room 4D, Honolulu, HI 96822 (808)956-4218.

TSAI, NEW NACSA COORDINATOR
(Reprinted from NACSA newsletter)

Yung-mei Tsai of Texas Tech University has agreed to serve as the Coordinator of the North American Chinese Sociologists Association for a term of two years beginning January 1991. Tsai succeeds Nan Lin of Duke University who was the Coordinator since the NACSA's inception in 1981. Tsai will be responsible for compiling and disseminating a database and directory of members and friends, editing the newsletter, and organizing its annual dinner and meeting in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Sociological Association. Congratulations!

FRL FELLOWSHIP

The University of New Hampshire Family Research Laboratory has at least two Family Violence Research fellowships available starting in the summer or fall of 1991. The NIMH-funded positions are open to new and experienced researchers with doctorates in the fields of psychology, sociology, social work, law, nursing, public health and medicine. The fellowships are intended for work in the area of child abuse, domestic violence, elder abuse, sexual abuse, rape, homicide and other family violence related topics with special attention to mental health impact. Scholars may use the one-year fellowships (with possible one year extension) to work on their own projects, to collaborate with FRL staff on on-going projects, or to work on one of the many data sets archived at the FRL. Fellows must be able to reside close enough to UNH (one-and-a-half hours from Boston) to attend the weekly Family Violence Research seminar. Annual stipends run from $17,000 to $31,500, depending on number of years since receipt of doctorate. Applications from scholars with interests in Family Violence in minority families are particularly encouraged. For more information, contact David Finkelhor, co-director, Family Research Laboratory, University of New Hampshire, Durham, NH 03824; (603) 862-1888.
