■ The Community and Its Hospitals

A Comparative Analysis

Ivan Belknap and John G. Steinle

The authors undertook to discover, in a study financed by the U. S. Public Health Service, why two almost identical communities should provide hospital service of totally dissimilar quality—one superb, the other deplorable. This book reports their surprising—and highly significant—conclusions. An important study of community structure and attitudes.

$5.75

■ Minister of Relief:

Harry Hopkins and the Depression

Searle F. Charles

Harry Hopkins' administration of Federal Emergency Relief in the grim unemployment crisis of the 30's is examined in terms of the relief programs developed and their impact on the immediate need and on the nation's attitude toward government responsibility for social welfare.

$6.00

■ Suburban Power Structures and Public Education

Warner Bloomberg, Jr., and Morris Sunshine

Study of varying types of leadership and power structures in suburban communities and their effect on fiscal support of schools by the communities. The Economics and Politics of Public Education Series, No. 10

$1.75

■ Social and Economic Factors in Spending for Public Education

Jerry Miner

Analysis of the varying socio-economic characteristics of communities and their relation to community spending for education. The Economics and Politics of Public Education Series, No. 11
