Program

AIDS

Macro and Micro Interrelationships

Two themes are featured in the program for the 1989 Annual Meeting. One theme is untraditional. It will appear in a plenary session and a number of program slots dedicated to a somber topic: the problem of AIDS and what sociologists are doing about it. There are many compelling reasons for featuring this topic so prominently but the main reason is the staggering estimate of the world-wide effects of the disease. Sociologists are increasingly working in this area.

Another theme, more traditional, will appear in a plenary and a number of thematic sessions. It focuses on the interrelationships of macro-and microlevel theories, variables, and concepts. The macro/micro relationship is a problem that in one way or another most of us confront daily in teaching and research. Yet there is little consensus as to its implications. Worse, although scholars agree on the definition of macrosociology, microsociology is so variously defined as to make the debate on the macro/micro relation less productive than one would like.

Two definitions of microsociology seem to predominate. In one view microsociology includes only those studies based on first-hand observation of interaction. Accordingly, micro research methods are restricted to those of symbolic interaction, ethnomethodology, and phenomenology. Studies based on survey data collected from individuals are implicitly left in limbo, neither macro- nor microsociology. Other scholars define microlevel research as including all studies in which the individual is the unit of analysis, whatever the research method. This definition suggests questions as to how individual behaviors and attitudes relate to aggregate trends.

The two definitions of microsociology obviously give rise to quite different explanations of the macro/micro relationship. Both definitions will be evidenced in the thematic sessions planned by the 1989 Program Committee.

Program Notes

Plenaries

Three plenary sessions in addition to the ASA Business Meeting have been planned for meeting attendees in San Francisco. The first plenary session will address the theme of the 1989 ASA Annual Meeting, while the plenary on the third evening will focus on AIDS issues. These plenaries bracket the Presidential Plenary on Thursday, August 10, at 4:30 p.m. All three convention-wide sessions are a must for your meeting schedule!

Session 67, Wednesday, August 9, 8:30 p.m.

Micro/Macro Looks at Stratification
Continental Ballroom 6, Ballroom Level

President: Doris Y. Wilkinson, University of Kentucky
Historical Change and Ritual Production of Gender. Randall Collins, University of California-Riverside

Women and the Wealth and Well-being of Nations: Macro-Micro Interrelationships.
Rae Lesser Blumberg, University of California-San Diego
Discussion: Samuel H. Preston, University of Pennsylvania

Session 120, Thursday, August 10, 4:30 p.m.

Presidential Address and ASA Awards Ceremony
Continental Ballroom 4-5, Ballroom Level

(See next section for details.)

Session 188, Friday, August 11, 8:30 p.m.

AIDS and the Sociological Enterprise
Continental Ballroom 4, Ballroom Level

Organizer: Beth E. Schneider, University of California-Santa Barbara
President: Nancy Stoller Shaw, University of California-Santa Cruz
A Sociological Research Agenda for People Living with AIDS. Barry D. Adam, University of Windsor

Progress on a Research Agenda for the Social Consequences of AIDS. Richard A. Berk, University of California-Los Angeles
Sociology, Epidemiology, and the Epistemology of AIDS. William W. Darrow, Centers for Disease Control

AIDS and Class, Gender and Race Relations. Beth E. Schneider, University of California-Santa Barbara

Presidential Address and ASA Awards Ceremony

The Presidential Plenary features the formal address of the ASA President and all convention attendees are invited to this session. The Awards Ceremony, which will begin at the conclusion of the Presidential Address, will feature the 1989 ASA award recipients and an announcement about this year's Common Wealth award. All registrants are invited to a reception in Continental Ballroom 6 immediately following the ceremony to honor the President and the award recipients.

Session 120, Thursday, August 10, 4:30 p.m.

Presidential Address
Continental Ballroom 4-5, Ballroom Level

President: Glen H. Elder, Jr., ASA Vice President
Introduction. Glen H. Elder, Jr., University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Presidential Address. Joan Huber, The Ohio State University

Awards Ceremony

President: William J. Chambliss, Chair, ASA Committee on Awards Policy
Common Wealth Award:

Didactic Seminars

Didactic Seminars are designed to keep sociologists abreast of recent scholarly trends and developments. Experts considered to be at the forefront of a given field are invited by the Program Committee to conduct these sessions. Seminar speakers will present materials to explain specialized developments within their topic areas.

Seminars are scheduled for two, three or four hours. Please see the listing below for session details and brief seminar descriptions provided by the speakers.

Attendance at each Didactic Seminar is limited to 50, and pre-paid registration is required. Seminar fees are $15 each, and all persons registering for seminars must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting. Those already enrolled should have received their tickets with their name badges. Those who did not reserve in advance but who wish to attend should check at the Tickets Desk for possible openings.

No one will be admitted without a paid reservation; tickets will be collected at the door.

Session 41, Wednesday, August 9, 2:30 p.m.-4:20 p.m.

Analyzing Social Interactive Processes

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Sam Vuchinich, Oregon State University

This seminar focuses on the logic and implementation of quantitative models for the analysis of face-to-face social interaction. It begins by describing links between some theoretical views of social process (Mead, Blumer, Goffman, Collins, Sacks and Schegloff) and quantitative models. An emphasis is placed on selecting appropriate models, given the constraints of theory and data. The seminar demonstrates three different quantitative approaches: logit models (a loglinear approach), survival/hazards models (an event history approach), and covariance structure models (a LISREL approach). Analysis examples with longitudinal data include parent-child interaction in the adjustment to remarriage, parental discipline and child antisocial behavior, and models for the duration of strikes, wars, riots and family conflict. Some knowledge of multiple regression is the only recommended prerequisite.

Session 70, Thursday, August 10, 8:30-11:30 a.m.

Studying Kinship

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Alice S. Rossi and Peter H. Rossi, University of Massachusetts-Amherst

This seminar will emphasize issues of design and measurement in the study of kinship structures and intergenerational relations. Special attention will be given to the use of biographic data in cross-sectional surveys, and the factorial survey methods for the study of normative obligations to kin. Empirical examples of a selected range of topics will be drawn from our forthcoming book, Of Human Bond- ing, a study of parent-child relations across the life course (Aldine de Gruyter, in press). No specific prerequisites are recommended, but familiarity with survey design and analysis will be assumed.

Session 107, Thursday, August 10, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Introduction to Multistate Population Models

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Robert Schoen, University of Illinois-Urbana

The seminar will examine multistate (or increment-decrement) life tables to give those attending a basic understanding of (1) the structure of those models, (2) the methods for calculating them, (3) the summary measure they provide, and (4) how they can be applied to available data. There are no prerequisites other than a knowledge of elementary algebra.

Session 108, Thursday, August 10, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Measuring Religious Values

Yosemite A, Ballroom Level

Andrew Greeley, National Opinion Research Center

Discussion will focus on the various ways that religious imagery can be measured, particularly in surveys, and the need for a theoretical orientation before one even begins to try to measure the images.

Session 122, Friday, August 11, 8:30-10:20 a.m.

Measuring Residential Segregation

Tiburón, 4th Floor

Douglas Massey, NORC/University of Chicago

Over the years, researchers have put forth many indices as potential measures of residential segregation. A review of the methodological literature reveals no fewer than 20 separate candidates. In this didactic seminar, I consider these indices, their properties, and the underlying structural relationships between them. I attempt to reduce the measurement problem down to a choice among indices grouped into five different conceptual categories that correspond to separate axes of spatial variation. Using empirical examples, I show how difference indices lead to different conclusions about the nature of residential segregation, and argue for the conceptualization of segregation as a multidimensional phenomenon.

Session 136, Friday, August 11, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Computer Analysis of Qualitative Data

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Kathleen Carley, Carnegie-Mellon University

A computer assisted approach for comparing knowledge (perceptions, attitudes, beliefs, meanings) across individuals and groups, for determining what knowledge is "social", and for looking at changes in such knowledge and implications for this change for the society or group will be presented. Using the computer, verbal protocols (such as interviews or excerpts from journals or books) can be coded so as to extract not only what "concepts" are present, but also the relationships between these concepts. This procedure generates a "map" of the knowledge expressed in the verbal protocol. Maps from two or more verbal protocols can be examined visually to locate qualitative differences. Alternatively, computer procedures (which will be described) can be used to quantitatively measure the degree of similarity and difference in two or more verbal protocols. Examples will be drawn from the following areas: (1) comparison of expert and non-expert knowledge, and (2) comparison of the evolution over time of differences and similarities in the perceptions of a social role by members of a group. Finally, it will be demonstrated that qualitatively based data such as this on the differences and similarities in shared knowledge, perceptions, culture, etc., can be used in conjunction with other data on the group (demographic changes, social structure, or presence of an "innovative idea") to explore the potential for change in the group or society in question via simulation.

Session 163, Friday, August 11, 2:30-6:20 p.m.

Methods of Social Network Analysis

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Peter V. Marsden, Harvard University

This seminar will give an introductory overview of methods for studying social structures conceived as social networks, emphasizing quantitative approaches. It begins with coverage of study designs, sources of data, instruments for data collection, and research on the quality of network measurement. It will also introduce major methods used to analyze network data including centrality analysis location of cohesive subgroups, spatial analysis, and block modelling and positional analysis. The seminar will include worked examples and discussion of computer software for network analysis.

Session 191, Saturday, August 12, 8:30-10:20 a.m.

Cultural Interpretation

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Bennette Jules-Rosette, University of California-San Diego

The seminar will cover a cross-section of methods and models of analysis in the sociology of art, culture, and knowledge. Background on major issues in the sociology of culture will be helpful to participants. The seminar should be of special interest to scholars engaged in the analysis of cultural and expressive forms. Interpretations of cultural and technological objects and recent debates on postmodernity will be discussed. Attention will be devoted to the relevance of anthropological, semiotic, and literary theories to sociological analysis. Insights from the works of Roland Barthes, Michel de Certeau, Mary Douglas, Michel Foucault, and A.J. Greimas will be examined in the context of recent developments in sociological approaches to cultural analysis. Case studies of popular art and the impact of new technologies will be presented as methodological applications.

Session 202, Saturday, August 12, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
New Class Theory
Tiburon, 4th Floor

Ivan Szelenyi, University of California-Los Angeles

The term "New Class" became widely used in American sociology following Milovan Djilas' book on the emergence of a bureaucratic class under communism, but the idea of New Class can be traced back for over a century. Since the 1870's the idea that the bourgeoisie may be "unseated" by a new dominant class, which will be composed either by scientists (Bakunin), engineers (Veblen), managers (Burnham), intellectuals (Gouldner), left critical intelligentsia (Schelsky), etc., haunted social sciences. This didactic seminar will give a history of the idea of the "New Class", will identify the different waves of New Class theorizing, and will try to explain the diversities of New Class theories from a sociology of knowledge perspective.

Session 233, Saturday, August 12, 2:30-6:20 p.m.
Methods of Conversational Analysis
Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Emanuel A. Schegloff, University of California-Los Angeles

This seminar will focus on some systematic methods for analyzing ordinary talk in interaction in the absence of "inspiration." The main practical research concern to be addressed is how to get initial technical access to what is going on in some stretch of talk. No specific prior knowledge will be presupposed, but participants should have some idea of what conversation analysis is and, in general, the sorts of procedures it employs, and want some exposure to ways of working along those lines. The session will include first a quick review of some relevant past work and then an exercise in collective data analysis on some specimen data.

Session 247, Saturday, August 12, 4:30-6:20 p.m.
The Revival of German Sociological Theory
Tiburon, 4th Floor

Richard Muench, University of Dusseldorf

Recent developments in German sociological theory have received particular attention well beyond the society's national boundaries. This seminar will provide an introduction into two major theories and will critically discuss their achievements: Niklas Luhmann's systems theory and Jurgen Habermas's theory of communicative action. After introducing the two theories, their application to explaining order and the development of modern societies will be discussed. The seminar is open to all who are interested in recent developments in German sociological theory. There are no special requirements but some familiarity with the basic problems of sociological theory will be helpful for participants.

Workshops

Professional and Teaching Workshops have become a standard component of the Annual Meeting. This year over 25 workshops provide opportunities for attendees to update their skills and knowledge in a variety of professional and disciplinary areas. Workshops are generally open to all convention registrants; however, please note that there are two pre-convention workshops (Sessions 1 and 2) which required advance registration and fee payment.

Professional Workshops

Session 1, Monday, August 7, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 1:30-5:30 p.m.; Tuesday, August 8, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 1:30-3:00 p.m.

Job Clinic

Continental Parlor 1, Ballroom Level

Richard Irish, Transcendy Corporation

Clinic fees: ASA Members $195, non-members $260.

Session 16, Wednesday, August 9, 10:30 a.m.

Vita vs. Resume: Sociologists Approaching Business

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Christine Wright-Isak, Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborne; Stephen A. Buff, American Sociological Association

Session 42, Wednesday, August 9, 2:30 p.m.

Utilizing Sociology in Policy Formation (Co-sponsored by the Coalition for Utilizing Sociology—composed of the Sociological Practice Association, the Society for Applied Sociology, the SSSP Task Force on Applied Sociology, the ASA Section on Sociological Practice, and Sociologists in Business)

Yosemite B, Ballroom Level

Marvin Olsen, Michigan State University; Robert Althaus, National Science Foundation and Indiana University; David O'Brien, University of Missouri-Columbia;

Robert Scott, Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences; Harrison Trice, Cornell University; Carol Weiss, Harvard University

The workshop panelists, all of whom have given considerable attention to this topic, will address such questions as: Why is relatively little sociological theory and research directed toward the formation of public policies? Why do policy makers tend to ignore sociology? How might more sociologists be encouraged to do policy-relevant work? How must sociological theory and research be altered if it is to be used by policy makers? How can policy makers be encouraged to utilize our work?

Session 54, Wednesday, August 9, 4:30 p.m.

Strategizing Careers

Continental Parlor 9, Ballroom Level

Elizabeth Menaghan, The Ohio State University

"Teaching, research and service—but the greatest of these is . . . ?" We will explore (but almost certainly not resolve) some basic issues involved in setting one's own course in the field, and articulate some of the dilemmas inherent in mainstream definitions of professional and disciplinary "success."

Session 71, Thursday, August 10, 8:30 a.m.

Writing for Sociology Journals

Yosemite A, Ballroom Level

William Form, Ohio State University; William Parish, University of Chicago; Sheldon Stryker, Indiana University; Richard L. Simpson, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

Session 83, Thursday, August 10, 10:30 a.m.

Women's Studies Research Centers

Yosemite A, Ballroom Level

Myra Marx Ferree, University of Connecticut

Participants: Cheris Kramarae, Center for the Study of Women in Society, University of Oregon; Heidi Hartmann, Institute for Women's Policy Research; Nancy L. Marshall, Wellesley Center for Research on Women; Patricia MacCorquodale, Southwest Institute for Research on Women, University of Arizona

A panel discussion of the issues involved in doing research on and for women in the context of a women's studies research center rather than a traditional department. The specific funding opportunities, institutional arrangements, and research emphases of several major centers will be discussed.

Session 109, Thursday, August 10, 2:30 p.m.

Media Coverage

Tiburon, 4th Floor

Pepper Schwartz, University of Washington; Janet Lever, RAND Corporation; Ron Lorentzen, KPIX-TV, San Francisco

Schwartz will present an overview and some personal experiences on using sociology in the daily news, in magazines, in trade books, and as newscast. Representatives from media outlets will present the insiders' view. The workshop will focus on both the organizational structure of various media and guidelines to help one conform to their professional requirements.

Session 123, Friday, August 11, 8:30 a.m.

Sociologists in Biomedical Settings

Cypress, 4th Floor

Linda H. Aiken, University of Pennsylvania

Several brief presentations by sociologists who have established research and educational programs in nursing and medical schools will set the stage for a group discussion around the theme opportunities, challenges, and impediments to social science research in biomedical settings.

Session 137, Friday, August 11, 10:30 a.m.

Clinical Sociology: Implementing Empowerment Strategies (Co-sponsored by the Sociological Practice Association)

Yosemite A, Ballroom Level

Elizabeth J. Clark, Montclair State College; Jan M. Fritz, National Cancer Institute and Loma Linda University

The workshop will begin with a brief overview of the variety of theoretical approaches which are useful for clinical sociological intervention. Theory will be examined in relation to level of focus (micro and macro). The workshop focus will be on strategies in several areas of specialization such as health care, conflict intervention and community programs.

Session 164, Friday, August 11, 2:30 p.m.

Publishing Books

Sausalito, 4th Floor

Saturday, August 12, 4:30 p.m.The AIDS Quarterly*Lombard, 6th Floor

Bruce Ward, WGBH-TV, Boston

"The AIDS Quarterly" is a series of news updates and documentary programs scheduled for broadcast four times annually. The series is produced by WGBH-TV, Boston, and is anchored by Peter Jennings. The series premiered on February 28, 1989, with an examination of Admiral James Watkins, the chairman of the Presidential Commission on the HIV Epidemic.

"The AIDS Quarterly" is one component of a larger effort, The AIDS Project, slated to include broadcast of co-produced documentary specials on AIDS, along with a national outreach effort designed to link public television stations, their viewers and AIDS service providers.

This workshop plans to present segments of "The AIDS Quarterly" and to inspire interactive discussion on elements and issues of these segments. In smaller discussion groups, participants will be asked to debate questions of legal, ethical, and medical issues.

Roundtable Discussions

This popular program component is designed to bring together small groups of people interested in discussing specific topics. The 1989 Program Committee authorized a Roundtable Organizing Committee chaired by Dana Vannoy (University of Cincinnati) to review proposals and select topics and presenters to guide discussions.

This year the informal discussion sessions have been organized around general topics. Nine sessions have been arranged: Session 18—International; Session 44—Law and Economy; Session 85—Organizations; Session 149—Family; Session 177—Gender, Race and Ethnicity Issues; Session 193—Social Problems; Session 204—Organizations; Session 216—Theory and Methodology; and Session 249—Issues in the Discipline. For complete information, refer to the session listings in the body of the Program.

Since several discussions are held simultaneously in one large meeting room, no audio-visual equipment or recording devices may be used and there are no formal paper presentations.

Tours

Enhance your visit to San Francisco by organizing your convention activity schedule around the special tour program planned by Troy Duster, University of California—Berkeley. You are only a registration away from viewing the city's highlights, increasing your knowledge of AIDS and Alcohol use and abuse research, or relaxing while picnicking on Angel Island. So don't leave the meetings before participating in at least one or perhaps several of these unique opportunities to explore our host city.

The schedule of tours is provided below. Reservations are mandatory. Please check at the Tickets Desk in the ASA Registration Area for availability and any late cancellations. Those already enrolled for tours should have received their tickets with their name badges.

All groups will depart from the San Francisco Hilton following a brief orientation period. Please refer to the information as listed below for exact location of the orientation room and plan to arrive promptly so that departure times are observed. Keep in mind that the arrival times back to the Hilton are estimates only and may vary somewhat due to traffic congestion.

TOURS 1, 2, 3 & 4: San Francisco City Overview

Wednesday, August 9, 12:15-2:00 p.m. (tour 1)

Wednesday, August 9, 2:15-4:00 p.m. (tour 2)

Friday, August 11, 1:45-3:30 p.m. (tour 3)

Friday, August 11, 3:45-5:30 p.m. (tour 4)

Fee: $14.00

Orientation Area: Plaza A, Lobby Level

Tour Leader: Galavents, Inc. Tour Guide, San Francisco

Get acquainted or reacquainted with San Francisco! This one and one-half hour tour is designed to orient you from your hotel to the city's highlights—the famous and the familiar, and today's realities. Your guide will regale you with tales of the Earthquake and Fire of 1906 as you view fine examples of Victorian survivors from the comfort of the site-seeing motor coach. Visit unique neighborhoods such as Nob Hill, once home to Silver Kings and Lumber Barons, and Chinatown with its crowded streets and interesting shops. Your Galavents guide will remind you of any special events, showings and performances that are available during your visit and answer any questions you might have regarding ASA's host city by the Bay. (Bus Tour)

TOURS 5 & 6: San Francisco AIDS Foundation

Thursday, August 10, 9:30 a.m.-12:00 Noon (tour 5)

Friday, August 11, 9:30 a.m.-12:00 Noon (tour 6)

Fee: $15.00

Orientation Area: Plaza A, Lobby Level

Tour Leaders: Diane Beeson, California State University, Hayward, and Kathy Fox, University of California, Berkeley (Thursday Tour); Steven Epstein, University of California, Berkeley, and Nancy Stoller Shaw, University of California, Santa Cruz (Friday Tour)

(Co-Sponsored by Sociologists' AIDS Network)

The San Francisco AIDS Foundation is a worldwide leader in AIDS prevention, service and advocacy. It was founded in 1982 by a group of concerned physicians and gay community activists. As the epidemic spread and the need for services grew it enlisted the support of other segments of the city's population. This tour will give you an opportunity to observe and learn about the functioning of many of its 90 staff members and over 600 volunteers who have contributed greatly to the humanity and effectiveness of this city's response to the AIDS epidemic. You will learn about the foundations contributions and strategies in education, client services and public policy (Bus/Walking Tour—Limited to 20 participants)

TOUR 7: Preventing and Studying Alcohol and Drug Abuse

Thursday, August 10, 12:45 p.m.-4:30 p.m.

Fee: $15.00

Orientation Area: Plaza A, Lobby Level

Tour Leader: Marvin Olsen, Michigan State University and Coalition for Utilizing Sociology

(Co-Sponsor: Coalition for Utilizing Sociology, consisting of the Sociological Practice Association, the Society for Applied Sociology, the ASA Sociological Practice Section, the Society for the Study of Social Problems Task Force on Applied Sociology, and Sociologists in Business)

The tour will visit two applied sociological research centers in Berkeley that conduct studies of alcohol and drug use and abuse. The Prevention Research Center focuses on environmental approaches to preventing alcohol-related problems. Current projects include an evaluation of server-intervention programs in bars and restaurants, studies of drinking in blue-collar work places, and research on the factors that promote heavy drinking by Mexican Americans. The Alcohol Research Group, which is a National Alcohol Research Center, focuses on the epidemiology of alcohol problems. The overall objective of all the studies conducted by the Group is to gain greater understanding of the place of drinking patterns and problems in society. The emphasis is on naturalistic data about drinking patterns and problems as they occur in everyday life. At both agencies, professional staff members will conduct a tour of the facilities, explain the kind of research they are presently doing, and discuss problems encountered in doing applied research on alcohol and drug problems. Approximately an hour and a quarter will be spent in each agency. (Bus/Walking Tour—Limited to 25 participants)

TOUR 8: Angel Island Tour

Friday, August 11, 9:15 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

Fee: $15.00

Orientation Area: Plaza A, Lobby Level

Tour Leader: Deborah Woo, University of California, Santa Cruz

This is a walking tour of Angel Island, the port of entry for Asian immigrants. Today's 740-acre wildlife preserve, open to the public for picnicking, camping, cycling, and hiking, was the first American experience for these immigrants much like Ellis Island for European immigrants in the Harbor of New York. This tour will provide participants an opportunity to visit former detention facilities and a museum housing information, materials, photographs, etc., on the island as an immigration station. At the same time, visitors can enjoy the spectacular views of Alcatraz Island, the surrounding San Francisco and Marin areas, as well as the three bridges connecting the San Francisco Peninsula to the East and North Bays. Wear warm (layered as it can be windy on the island), comfortable clothing and walking shoes and take along a sack lunch. (Cable Car/Ferry/Walking Tour—Limited to 20 participants)

TOUR 9: The Urban Geography of Political Development in Berkeley

Friday, August 11, 10:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.

Fee: $15.00

Orientation Area: Plaza A, Lobby Level

Tour Leader: Hardy Frye, University of California, Santa Cruz

Following the War in the early fifties, a new black community began to assert its social and political leadership through a community based movement led by E.B. Gibson (a former member of A. Philip Randolph's Sleeping Car Porter's Union). This movement centered around the leadership role of black churches and civic organizations. Berkeley's Byron Rumford, elected to the State Assembly and author of the state's first "Fair Housing Law", emerged from this community based organization. This group became active in civil rights struggles and in efforts to change the political direction of the City. The City, despite its large black population, had a history of relatively conservative white Mayors, reflecting Berkeley's origins as a middle class bedroom community.

The transformation in Berkeley's political development and the issues and politics of its political struggle can be located in its changing cultural geography. Between 1970 and 1980, the Black population declined by over a third. And the years have seen the aging and greying of the older black political leadership and the migration of their children to other cities of the Bay Area. In their place have come more students and the new white middle class gentry who have settled in the neighborhoods to the north, the south, and the west of the university displacing/replacing much of the earlier predominantly black settlement in south and west Berkeley.

As the racial and social character of the population changed, the issues and locations of political struggles have also undergone a transformation. This tour will lead the group through the history of the issues and contexts of Berkeley's political development by focusing on the geography of the struggles through Berkeley's last three decades. Tour sites and issues will include: (1) The Black Community of the 1950's and Its Change in the 1980's; (2) The Emergence of the South Campus Bohemian Community/People's Park; (3) Changing West Berkeley, The Historic Waterfront, Old Industrial Berkeley, The De-Industrialization of the West Berkeley Industrial Area & The Emergence of the Ecological/Land Use Struggle Over the Berkeley Waterfront; (4) The College Avenue Commercial Rent Control District (first in the nation). (Bus/Walking Tour—Limited to 20 participants)

Section Activities

Section activities are interspersed throughout the five-day schedule of the Annual Meeting and are open to all meeting attendees. These specialized sessions range in format from formal paper presentations to mini-conferences. The number of sessions allocated to each Section is based on the size of the section; for the 27 active sections, there are a total of 120 separate program activities scheduled. This year Microcomputing joins the roster as the newest section. Section Council/Business Meetings, receptions, and the Section-sponsored Program Sessions are summarized below for quick reference; for more complete information, refer to the body of the Program.

Member Orientation and Welcoming Party

All new members of the Association, and those who would like to know more about ASA's governance structure and how to become involved in ASA activities, are invited to the Member Orientation and Welcoming Party on Wednesday, August 9, from 6:30-8:00 p.m. in Yosemite Hall on the Ballroom Level.

This welcome is sponsored by the ASA Committee on Membership. Members of ASA Committees and Sections and several ASA officers and editors will be on hand to discuss avenues for formal and informal involvement in the Association. Refreshments will be provided along with the free information. New members and first-time meeting participants are particularly encouraged to be present for this informative event!

DAN

The seventeenth annual Departmental Alumni Night (DAN) will be held on Wednesday at the close of the first evening plenary session, approximately 10:30 p.m., in the Imperial Ballroom on the Ballroom Level. Just find the banner from the institution you attended, served, are serving, or hope to serve, and meet colleagues to reminisce about graduate school days, relay recent rumors, and create new coalitions.

Each graduate department of sociology in the United States and Canada was invited to fly its banner to attract alumni and friends. A "home base" will also be provided for sociologists in business and industry as well as for international scholars and guests.

Make sure your meeting plans include the social event that brings all your friends together in one place at one time!

Honorary Reception

Since 1984, the American Sociological Association has been joined by sociology departments and regional societies in co-sponsoring the annual Honorary Reception that follows the President's address and the ASA Awards Ceremony. This year the Association is pleased to acknowledge the following as co-sponsors of the Honorary Reception:

Department of Sociology, Michigan State University, from which President Huber received her PhD;

Department of Sociology, The Ohio State University, where Huber is presently Dean of the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences;

Department of Sociology, University of California, Berkeley;

Department of Sociology, University of California, Riverside;

Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, University of California, San Francisco; and Basil Blackwell, Inc., ASA's new publisher of Sociological Theory, Sociological Methodology, and in the near-future, Sociological Practice Review.

We invite all participants to join with our co-sponsors at the Honorary Reception in Continental Ballroom 6, Ballroom Level, at 6:30 p.m. to express our appreciation, congratulations, and best wishes to the President and major award winners on what promises to be a festive occasion.

ASA Business Meeting

The annual ASA Business Meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, August 12, in Continental Ballroom 5 on the Ballroom Level. All members of the ASA are encouraged to attend to hear Association officers present their reports to the membership and to consider resolutions from ASA members offered for discussion and action.

Resolutions for the Business Meeting must be delivered to the ASA Headquarters Office (Toyon Room, 4th Floor) in the San Francisco Hilton before 5:00 p.m. on Friday, August 11. Each resolution must indicate the name and affiliation of the submitter and identify the person who will actually present the resolution at the Business Meeting. Those received before the deadline will be posted in the ASA Registration Area so that members may become familiar with upcoming business. Resolutions submitted to the Executive Office by the Friday deadline will be given preference on the Business Meeting agenda; unposted resolutions will be permitted, up to the limit of time available before the 10:20 p.m. adjournment.

Reminder . . . Only current voting members of the ASA may submit, present, discuss and vote on Business Meeting resolutions.

Student Hospitality Room

Students attending the Annual Meeting may make use of the Student Hospitality Room. This year the Saratoga Room, 4th Floor, will be used for this purpose. The Student Hospitality Room will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., Wednesday through Saturday, and from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, to provide a place for students to meet, caucus, make dinner arrangements, etc. Some refreshments will be provided each day. Additionally, students will have the opportunity to peruse graduate bulletins from various sociology programs around the country. All students registered for the Annual Meeting are welcome to use of this hospitality room.

ASA Information—Grand Ballroom Salon A, Grand Ballroom Level

The Information Desk is staffed with ASA Executive Office personnel who are able to provide information on membership, subscriptions, and publications. Copies of the 1989 issue of the Guide to Graduate Departments, the 1988 Directory of Departments and Directory of Members, and the cumulative journal index are available, as are other ASA publications. Samples copies of ASA journals are available for inspection.

ASA Office—Toyon Room, 4th Floor

The Headquarters Office will be staffed from Tuesday through Sunday by Executive Office personnel from Washington, DC. Office hours are 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m., Tuesday-Saturday; 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m., Sunday. The demands on staff time and equipment are limited to official ASA functions. Secretarial services are not available; attendees needing secretarial assistance may contact the Hilton Business Center near the 4th Floor elevators.

Child Care—Monterey Room, 4th Floor

A child care program is being provided by Jen Suter and Susan Frensilli of the ASA Executive Office Staff. Care will be available during the daytime program sessions (8:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.) for infants and older children. Evening care must be arranged on an individual basis through local babysitting agencies specializing in this service.

We are pleased to announce that the following individuals/companies have generously offered to help co-sponsor the 1989 Child Care Program, thus defraying some of its expenses and lowering daily fees to parents: Austin Travel/MMA, Jane and Jack Carey, Greenwood Press/Praeger Publishers, ILR Press, Macmillan Publishing Company, New Day Films, Sociological Abstracts, Inc., Sociologists for Women in Society, Jen and Larry Suter, and Wadsworth Publishing Company. We thank each contributor for assisting ASA in providing another quality kinder-convention experience for your children.

Lunch and snacks will be provided; however, parents may arrange to take their children out for lunch or bring a special bag lunch with them in the morning if they prefer.

Charges for those who did not pre-register their children for the Child Care Service will be $45.00 per child for a half day (8:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.) and $65.00 per child for the entire day. (For children using the service for shorter periods, the half-day fee will apply in order to encourage more stable use, discourage frequent dropping in and out, and simplify payment.) Children who have not pre-registered with the service will be accepted on a space-available, first-come first-served basis only.

Reminder: All parents/guardians using this service must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting.

Didactic Seminar Information—Grand Ballroom Salon A, Grand Ballroom Level

Those already enrolled for seminars should have received their tickets with their meeting packets. Some tickets may still be available for Didactic Seminars; check at the Tickets Desk for up-to-date information.

Seminar tickets are non-refundable and cancellations cannot be accepted. You may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

Employment Service—Plaza and Tower Rooms, Lobby Level

The 1989 ASA Employment Service is open from 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 8; and from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday through Saturday, August 9-12. The service is not open on Sunday, August 13.

Facilities will be available for reviewing employment listings, exchanging messages, and interviewing. If you have pre-registered as a candidate for the Employment Service, report to the Plaza Room as soon as possible to activate your file. If you have not registered, you should do so as early as possible. Attendees wishing to make full use of this service should register by 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, August 9.

All persons using this Service must register for the Annual Meeting as well as for use of the Employment Service. Once registered, you will be issued a pass permitting your entrance to the Service any time it is open. No one will be admitted without a pass. Fees for use of the Employment Service: ASA member applicants—$10; non-member applicants—$25; Employers—$50.

During the Annual Meeting in Atlanta last year, 86 employers listed 125 openings, including 18 positions outside academia, and 265 candidates registered with the Service. Over 1,200 interviews were scheduled.

Exhibits—Grand Ballroom Salon B, Grand Ballroom Level

All Annual Meeting attendees are encouraged to browse through the Exhibits located in the Grand Ballroom. Exhibits open on Wednesday, August 9, and close on Saturday, August 12. Exhibit hours are 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday-Friday, August 9-11, and 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, August 12.

Plan your schedule to include several visits to the 1989 ASA Exhibits to browse through the latest publications, explore current computer hardware and software, chat with representatives of statistical and informational literature, view the latest film releases, arrange your dining reservations, and lunch with colleagues in the lounge area at the back of the hall. See the Directory of Exhibitors listed elsewhere in this Program for names and booth numbers for all exhibitors, and don't forget to look through the Program for special ads.

Locator File—Grand Ballroom Salon A, Grand Ballroom Level

Locator cards will be filled out by convention attendees as they pick up their registration packets. These cards will then be available for reference at the ASA Information Desk during the meeting to help colleagues contact each other while in San Francisco. Message Exchange boxes are located in the corridor between the Continental and Imperial Ballrooms so that attendees may have 24-hour access.

Media—Walnut Room, 4th Floor

Media representatives are invited to stop by for registration packets and interview assistance.

Paper Sales—Grand Ballroom Salon A, Grand Ballroom Level

The 1989 Paper Sales Room is open from 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 8; 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m. on Wednesday through Saturday, August 9-12; and 8:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. on Sunday, August 13. Papers are available at the price of $2.00 each. All eligible papers which were submitted to the Executive Office for duplication and/or distribution at the Annual Meeting appear on the list of "Available Papers" (copy included in your registration packet). Authors who indicated that they would bring copies with them to the Annual Meeting are urged to deliver them to the Paper Sales room as soon as possible upon arrival.

Papers may be purchased as long as supplies last; orders for future delivery cannot be accepted. Requests for papers which have sold out or were not supplied may be sent directly to the author(s). In order to facilitate this procedure, a "Roster of Authors" which includes names and addresses of authors may be purchased for $2.00. Papers may also be available through Sociological Abstracts, Inc.; check the abstracts booklet for information.

The ASA Office is not able to return unsold copies of papers to individual authors after the Annual Meeting. However, authors may pick up remaining copies of their own papers on Sunday, August 13, after 11:00 a.m.

Note: All persons wishing access to the Paper Sales Room must be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting; badges are required for entrance into this area.

Resources for Attendees with Special Needs—Grand Ballroom Salon A, Grand Ballroom Level

The ASA Information Desk will coordinate resources during the convention week for registrants with physical disabilities who are attending the Annual Meeting. Again this year, the Information Desk is conveniently located adjacent to the ASA registration area.

If you sent in a special services request prior to the meeting, please check in at the ASA Information Desk on your arrival to ensure that you receive the assistance you need.

Those concerned about special resources and disabilities should note that there is an Open Forum on Disabilities Issues on Wednesday, August 9, at 4:30 p.m. in the Marin room on the 4th Floor. The forum is open to all convention attendees.

Restaurant Reservation Service—Grand Ballroom Salon B, Grand Ballroom Level

Reservations Tonight! is sponsoring this year's restaurant reservation service. Stop by Booth 308 for information on area restaurants and assistance in making reservations. This service is available from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Wednesday through Friday, August 9-11, and 9:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. on Saturday, August 12.

Section Information Table—Grand Ballroom Salon A, Grand Ballroom Level

Information on the 27 ASA Sections, including copies of 1989 Section newsletters, is available in the ASA Information area at the Section table, which is staffed by representatives of the various sections. Section representatives will also be present at the Member Orientation and Welcoming Party on Wednesday, August 9, in Yosemite Hall at 6:30-8:00 p.m.

Tours—Plaza A, Lobby Level

Those already enrolled for tours should have received their tickets with their meeting packets. Please check at the Tickets Desk in the ASA registration area (Grand Ballroom Salon A, Grand Ballroom Level) for any cancellations or changes in site schedules.

Orientation sessions for tour groups will be held in the Tour Orientation area in Plaza A on the Lobby Level. All groups will depart from the Taylor Street Exit of the Hilton. Tickets are required for access to the orientation and departure areas.

Your tickets are non-refundable and cancellations cannot be accepted. You may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

BOOTH #211

SOLID SCHOLARSHIP AT SOLID SAVINGS OF 20%!

Three sociological theory best-sellers by Jeffrey Alexander

STRUCTURE AND MEANING

Relinking Classical Sociology

In this new volume Jeffrey Alexander returns to classical traditions that are the touchstones for contemporary thinking and links the cultural and structural themes of classical theory to argue that liberal theories of modernity must be reconstituted so they reflect the new realism without giving up hope for the creation of a better society.

TWENTY LECTURES

Sociological Theory Since World War II

"Twenty Lectures has a legitimate claim to be the important theory text of the decade.... Twenty Lectures teaches much about where sociological theory is, and what we need in order to move on."—Canadian Journal of Sociology

392 pp., 0-231-06210-9, $35.00 cloth/392 pp., 0-231-06211-7, $13.00 paper

ACTION AND ITS ENVIRONMENTS

Toward a New Synthesis

"The contemporary quest for a theoretical synthesis is realized in this collection of essays that are masterly in their grasp of detail and exemplary in their comprehension of the sociological tradition."

—Bryan Turner, Universität Bielefeld

342 pp., 0-231-06208-7, $35.00 cloth

INTIMATE VIOLENCE

A Study of Injustice

Julie Blackman

"A brilliant analysis of family abuse inside white, middle-class America. Piercing the folklore of suburban domestic tranquility, Julie Blackman challenges theorists of social injustice, feminism and the law to confront the disturbing complexities of psychology inside violent homes. With this book, Blackman finally lays to rest the assumption that anyone is invulnerable to abuse within intimate relations."

—Michelle Fine, University of Pennsylvania

NEW IMMIGRANTS IN NEW YORK

Edited by Nancy Foner

Since a 1965 U.S. immigration law ended a long-standing bias against non-European countries, New York City has opened its arms to more than a million immigrants, most from the third world. The probing essays you'll find here come from sociologists, anthropologists, and labor economists to explore the effects the city and these newcomers have on each other.

HOUSING ABANDONMENT IN HARLEM

The Making of Community Households

Jacqueline Leavitt and Susan Saegert

Details the development and organization of a new kind of "community household model" that is headed by a new type of leadership—the women in the buildings who organize and pool resources to form cooperatives that buy back buildings from the City, renovate them, and create a network of community services that allows tenants to remain in their homes and improve their lives.

The Perilous Frontier:

Nomadic Empires and China
Thomas Barfield

The nomadic leaders of Inner Asia were hardly the mindless barbarians that history has made them out to be. In his book, Barfield explains that, instead, they were astute statesmen who created political structures and employed military strategies that allowed them to manipulate their powerful Chinese neighbors and fulfill the ambitions and foreign policies of their own empires. In addition, Barfield's examination makes an historical and anthropological connection between the complex past and the increasingly turbulent present of Inner Asia.

Nascent Proletarians:

Class Formation in Post-Revolutionary France
Michael P. Hanagan

According to many historians, the area around Saint-Etienne is "the cradle of the Industrial Revolution in France." Using information gathered from a multitude of disciplines, Hanagan explores this area in the years between 1840 and 1880 and establishes that a strong relationship existed between industrialization, the growth of class consciousness, and the origins of popular politics between 1840 and 1880.

Regents and Rebels:

The Revolutionary World of an Eighteenth-Century Dutch City
Wayne Ph. Te Brake

In the summer of 1787, in the Dutch city of Deventer, a revolutionary coalition led by artisans and lawyers removed officials loyal to the old regime and wrote a new constitution proclaiming the "sovereignty of the People." Before long, however, Anglo-Prussian intervention suppressed the Dutch Patriots and restored Prince William V of Orange to the throne. In a theory which is itself revolutionary, Te Brake concludes that despite the regime's counter-revolution, the patriots were able to destroy essential elements of the old regime and lay the foundation of a modern political culture.

The Romantic Ethic and the Spirit of Modern Consumerism

Colin Campbell

"Exceptionally erudite... a brilliant piece of socio-psychological analysis" - Political Quarterly

This powerful and original book casts its net wide to develop an entirely new theory of consumerism and a new interpretation of the cultural history of modern society. Campbell shows how fashion and the addiction to novelty, the crucial features of modern patterns of consumption, have their cultural origins in sentimentalism and the spirit of Romanticism, systems of belief which with their ethos of hedonism and pleasure-seeking reversed the Protestant ethic.

Scott, Foresman / Little, Brown Sociology— Because the Answers Aren't So Easy

NEW FOR 1990

Racial and Ethnic Groups Fourth Edition

Richard T. Schaefer, Western Illinois University

This comprehensive text examines race relations in the U.S. and abroad from a balanced sociological perspective and considers economic and psychological theories of discrimination. The Fourth Edition includes a new chapter on Hispanic Americans, new "Listen to Their Voices" boxed features in each chapter, an improved illustration program, and expanded discussion of such topics as Central and South American refugees, the impact of Gorbachev's reforms on Soviet ethnic relations, the prevalence of sexism in the classroom, and the debunking of the model minority myth concerning Asian Americans. Available October 1989, 608 pages, illustrated, hardbound, with comprehensive Instructor's Manual.

Introduction to Criminology Fifth Edition

Hugh D. Barlow, Southern Illinois University

Widely admired for its descriptive approach, this complete survey explores crime and its consequences from a sociological perspective. Competing theories are detailed, including the most up-to-date research findings and crime statistics. Thoroughly revised and expanded Part One provides more comprehensive coverage of theory. Discussions of such topics as female crime, legislation of morality, AIDS, privatization, sociobiological explanations of criminality, and police use of deadly force are included. Available November 1989, 576 pages, illustrated, hardbound, with Instructor's Manual.

San Francisco:

1 Alcatraz Island: Since 1858, Alcatraz has been successively a fortification, a U.S. military prison, an army disciplinary barracks, a federal penitentiary, and an American Indian stronghold. Although the main prison block with its steel bars, claustrophobic cells, mess hall, library, and "dark holes" is still structurally intact, today Alcatraz is a component of the Bay Area's 29,000-acre Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

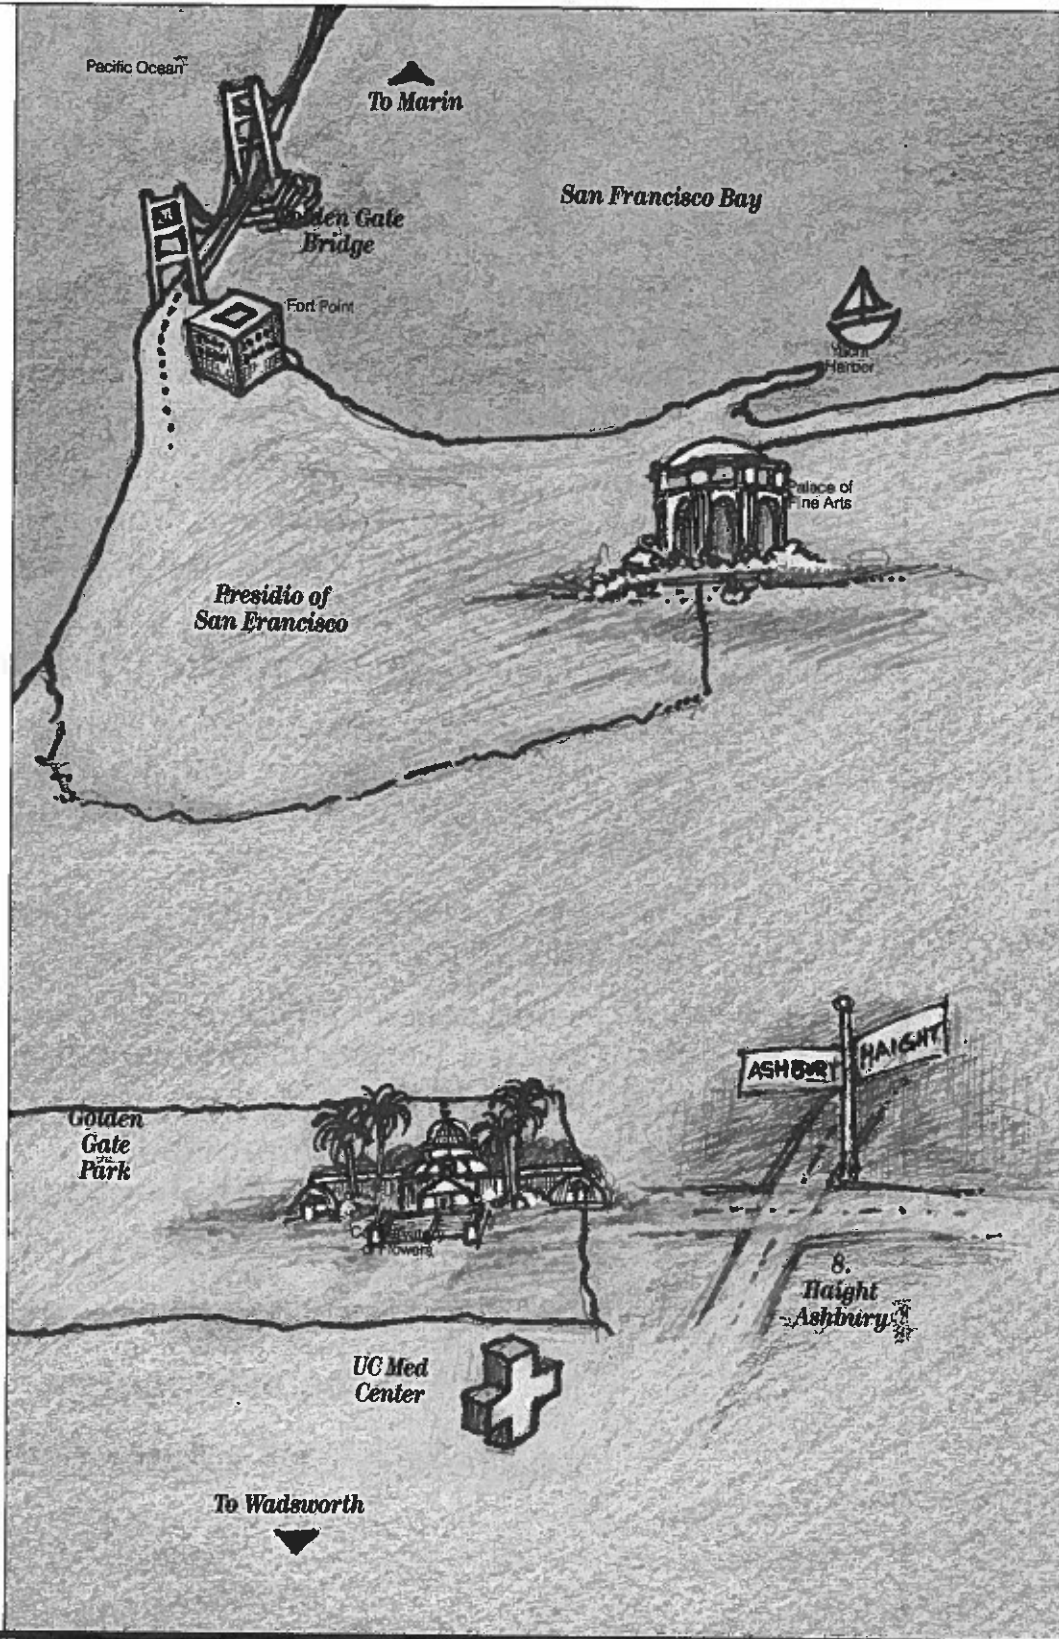

2 North Beach: At the turn of the century, this was the original settling ground for San Francisco's large Italian population, presently numbering over 50,000. A Latin élan enlivens this section, part of which was once the roistering Barbary Coast. Though not as solidly Italian as it once was, North Beach is still an enticing mosaic of cappuccino houses, gelato parlors, and delicatessens.

3 Chinatown: Besides being the largest settlement of its kind outside of Asia, this 24-block sector is the U.S. distribution hub for Chinese trade goods and the Chinese capital of the Western world. Many of the city's 100,000-plus Chinese live here.

4 South of Market: Known as "south of the slot" to old-timers and dubbed SoMa by those who sense a similarity to New York City's trendy SoHo, this two-square mile grid of broad one-way streets and narrow alleys has attracted speculators, immigrants, and the avant-garde. Dozens of restaurants, nightclubs, galleries, and experimental theaters flourish here along side factory outlets and a wholesale flower mart.

5 Candlestick Park: The Giants—San Francisco's popular baseball team—have called this windy ball park home since opening day, April 12, 1960. (Soon the team will be moving to an as yet undesignated new location.)

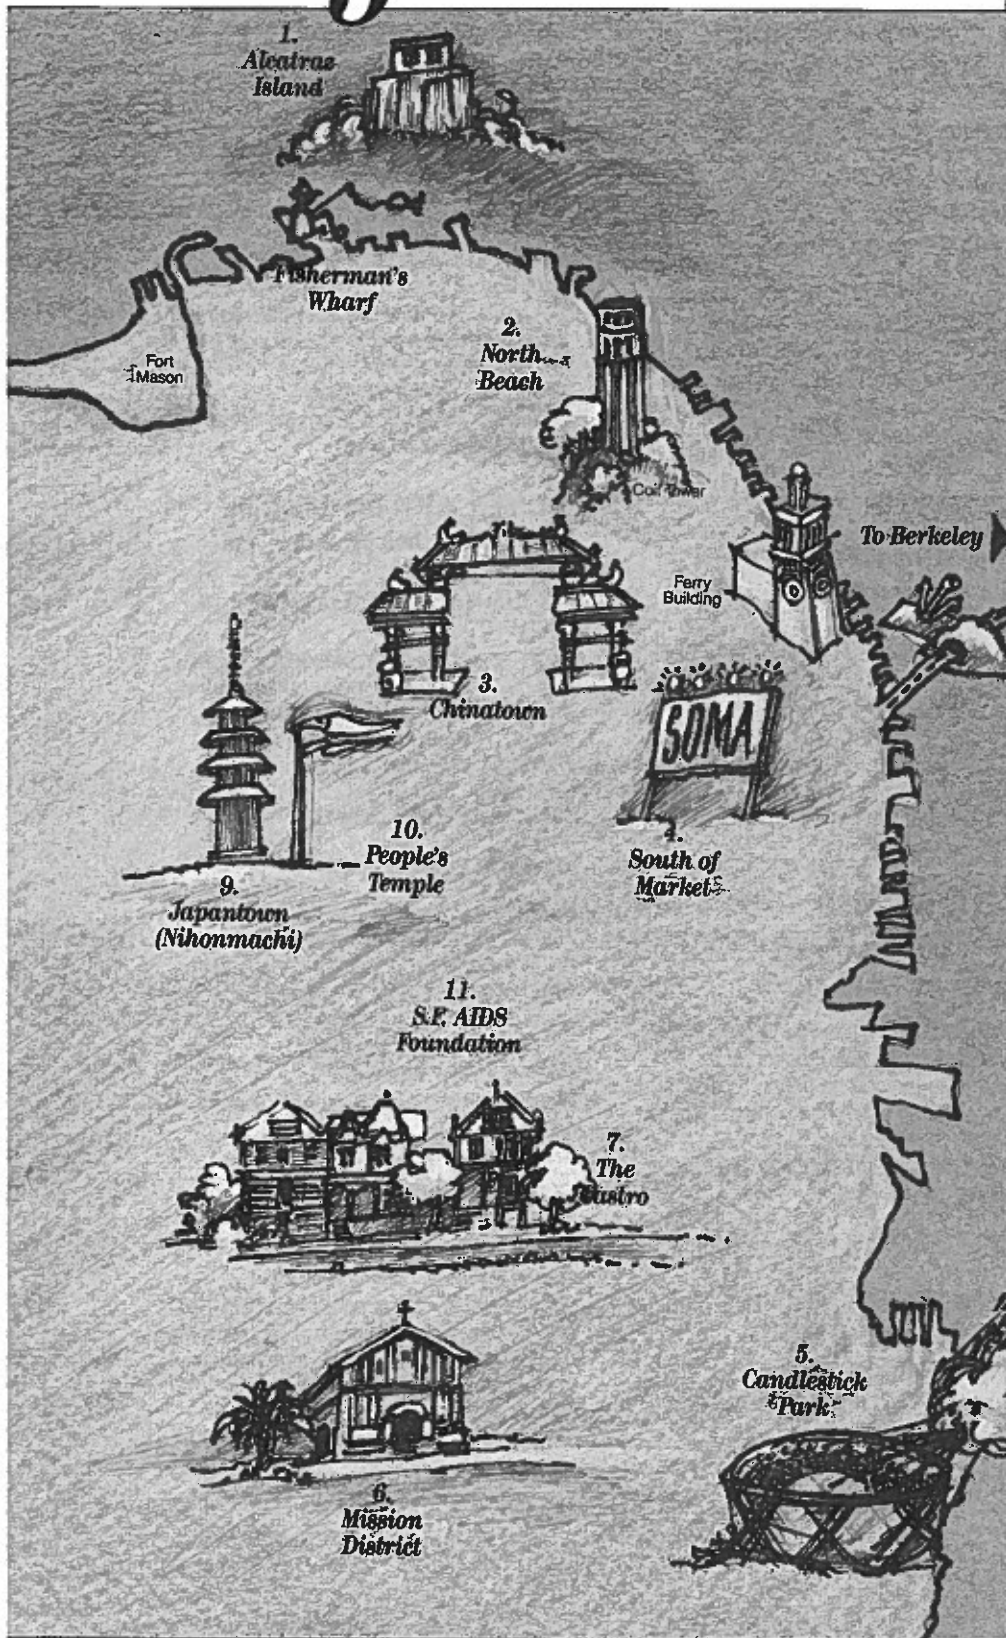

6 Mission District: "Se Habla Espanol" signs attest to the area's predominantly Hispanic population. (There are over 80,000 Hispanics in S.F.) Restaurants, taquerias, and Mexican bakeries give this area a particularly simpatico air.

It's your kind of town!

7 The Castro: A grand public works scheme and an infusion of public spirit have uplifted and changed the Castro, an area that many of San Francisco's gay men and women call home. Gay entrepreneurs have transformed some of the 1880s Victorians into imaginative boutiques, bookstores, and pubs.

8 Haight/Ashbury: Twenty years after the Summer of Love, the former flower power haven is a gentrified street scene apt to be more yuppie with a dash of punk.

9 Japantown (Nihonmachi): Another of the city's vest pocket ethnic communities with a Ginza-like array of restaurants, teahouses, shops, and theaters, many of them housed in five-acre Japan Center. San Francisco's Japanese population is estimated at 13,000.

10 People's Temple: What ended as a mass suicide in Jonestown, Guyana in 1978, started quietly enough here when the Reverend Jim Jones moved his flock to San Francisco in the mid 70s.

11 San Francisco AIDS Foundation: A worldwide leader in AIDS prevention, service, and advocacy founded in 1982 by a group of concerned physicians and gay community activists. As the epidemic spread and the need for services grew it enlisted the support of other segments of the city's population.

for life achievement*

This political ethnography documents a project undertaken by the state of Oregon to evaluate 35,000 jobs of state employees, identify gender-based pay inequities, and remedy them. It details both the technical and the political processes, showing how the technical is political in nature, how management manipulated and unions resisted wage redistribution, and how initial defeat was turned into partial victory for pay equity by union women and feminist activists. $34.95

NEW Sociology

Race—Ethnicity and Society

Benjamin B. Ringer and Elinor R. Lawless

Ringer (We the People and Others) and Lawless radically challenge conventional sociological theory by arguing that racism was built into the very foundations of our society, and that this experience can be located within the mainstream of European expansion and conquest. This solid work fills a gap in sociological literature by incorporating the "positive lessons" of recent racial turbulence.

American Medicine as Culture

Howard F. Stein

Medicine in America, argues Howard Stein, is not merely the sum of the parts making up the complex institutions and systems of biomedical practice, but an intricate human culture. In this ethnographic account of the American medical system, the author uses anthropological, small-group, and psychoanalytical paradigms to interpret important, organizing facts of medical culture and to link that culture with personality dynamics of individual practitioners as well as with the currents of the wider American society.

The Divine Archetype The Sociobiology and Psychology of Religion

Brant Wenegrat, Stanford University School of Medicine

New concepts have emerged that make it possible to provide evolutionary accounts of human social behavior from a sociobiologic rather than a Darwinian viewpoint. This path-breaking book provides an introduction to sociobiologic concepts and applies them to religious psychology to show how they account for the use and origin of belief in gods.

Lexington Books

is pleased to announce a new publishing series, "Social Issues."

The series, under the general editorship of George Ritzer of the Sociology department at the University of Maryland, will focus on the most pressing social issues of our time. Each issue will be covered in a single volume, roughly 200 pages in length, and every volume will demonstrate the best Sociology has to offer to further our understanding. The books, all original, will be written in an accessible manner by active scholars and will be usable in a wide range of courses in Sociology and the Social Sciences in general. They will be available in hardcover and softcover, and the first volumes will appear in 1991.

Books, and their authors, presently planned include:

THE DECLINE OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT

Rick Fantasia, Smith College

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT IN AMERICA

Raymond Paternoster, University of Maryland

CORPORATE CRIME

Sally Simpson, University of Maryland

AMERICA'S FAILURES, JAPAN'S SUCCESSSES

Linda Stearns, University of California, Riverside

TECHNOLOGY IN THE WORK PLACE

Michael Wallace, Ohio State

VIOLENT RELATIONSHIPS

Kirk Williams, University of New Hampshire

It is our expectation that this list will grow dramatically in the near future and that this series will make an important contribution to Sociology.

For further information, contact Dr. Ritzer at the University of Maryland or Paul O'Connell, Editor, Lexington Books, 125 Spring Street, Lexington MA 02173

AIDS In An Aging Society What We Need to Know

Matilda White Riley, Marcia G. Ory, and Diane Zablotsky, Editors.

Presents an overview of what is known about the behavioral, social, and epidemiological effects of AIDS on older Americans. It also points out what needs to be done to slow its spread among the aging — 10% of all AIDS cases in the U.S. are patients over 50.

Contributing Authors include: John W. Riley, George L. Maddox, Judith Levy, and Gary Albrecht.

THE FEMALE FEAR

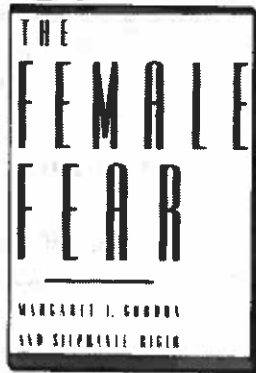

Margaret T. Gordon
and Stephanie Riger

From a very early age, women learn the fear of rape. Using extensive interviews and the most current data, Gordon and Riger explore the social and psychological costs of this pervasive fear in women's lives—and they demonstrate how this fear affects the way women think, organize their lives, and relate to others.

“Demonstrates that we cannot function as a true democracy as long as women's well-founded fear of rape inhibits our full participation in society. Gordon and Riger show that empirical social science work can be a tool for attaining full social equality for women without compromising the canons of science.”

—Pauline B. Bart, University of Illinois at Chicago

1988 ISBN: 0-02-912490-5 $19.95

BORN FOR LIBERTY

A History of Women in America

Sara M. Evans

Evans has written the definitive history of American women from our nation's beginnings to the 1980s—a major reinterpretation that brilliantly places women in a new, central position in the shaping of America.

“Sensitive to differences of race, class and ethnicity, rich in detail, firmly grounded in the best scholarship in the field, and strongly analytical—this is the best one-volume history of American women available to date.”

—Gerda Lerner, author of The Creation of Patriarchy

1989 ISBN: 0-02-902990-2 $24.95

INTERMARRIAGE

The Challenge of Living with Differences

Susan Weidman Schneider

“Tackling an emotionally charged subject with wisdom, depth, and balance, this book will inspire all readers to reflect upon the largest of human dilemmas—dilemmas of identity, conflicting loyalties, and the never-ending struggle to stay connected in the face of differences.”

—Harriet Goldhor Lerner, author of

The Dance of Anger and Women in Therapy

1989 ISBN: 0-02-927941-0 $19.95

FALLING FROM GRACE

The Experience of Downward Mobility in the American Middle Class

Katherine S. Newman

“Katherine Newman's splendid book shows us our culture when its promises fail. She reminds us of millions of people we would rather forget and, even more importantly, she calls us to reexamine our deepest beliefs. Hers is an indispensable voice in the current American cultural conversation.”

—Robert M. Bellah, co-author of Habits of the Heart

1988 ISBN: 0-02-923121-3 $22.95

AUCTIONS

The Social Construction of Value

Charles W. Smith

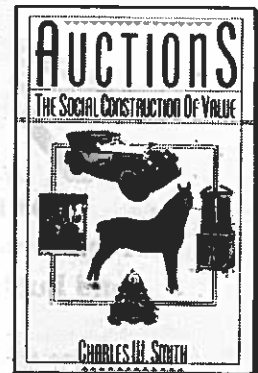

“This brilliant new book will appeal to everyone who has been fascinated by the process of buying and selling at auctions. Smith not only turns up many aspects of auctioneering which the ordinary person is likely to know little about, but also shows that auctions provide insights into many other more ‘orthodox’ forms of market transaction. This book will to my mind become a classic study, combining as it does fascinating description and profound analysis of the nature and origin of social and monetary values.”

—Anthony Giddens, Cambridge University

“Auctions is a masterpiece of institutional analysis. The combination of thick description and lucid analysis in this book is superb. Erving Goffman would have liked it.”

—Lewis A. Coser, Boston College

1989 ISBN: 0-02-929530-0 $24.95

A CALL TO CIVIC SERVICE

National Service for Country and Community

Charles C. Moskos

To prevent the waste of the vital energy, enthusiasm, and idealism of our youth, Moskos proposes a national, voluntary, decentralized program that links civilian and military service for young men and women—that fosters a coherent sense of community through involvement in crucially needed civic and human services.

“Judicious, thoughtful, and highly practical. If America is to find its way out of the privatization and greed of the last decade, back into its civic spirit, Moskos' book may offer us a vital text—not just telling us why but showing us how.”

—Benjamin R. Barber, author of Strong Democracy

A Twentieth Century Fund Book

1988 ISBN: 0-02-921991-4 $22.95

MIDDLE AMERICAN INDIVIDUALISM

The Future of Liberal Democracy

Herbert J. Gans

An inquiry into the deeply-rooted individualistic values of American working and lower middle class people—and into their increasing avoidance of, and alienation from, Big Business and Big Government.

“Indispensable for anyone who wants to understand why most Americans grumble about the status quo yet shrug off radical changes. But make no mistake: in the form of modest proposals, Herbert Gans has given us a sensible way of thinking about a political agenda that would be both visionary and practical. This book should be read by anyone interested in reconstructing a politics more representative, more participatory—more fully liberal in the best sense.”

—Todd Gitlin, author of The Sixties

1988's Number 1 reader for
Introduction to Sociology—
DOWN TO EARTH SOCIOLOGY
Fifth Edition

James M. Henslin

Now in its Fifth Edition, this widely used text has been thoroughly revised and updated with 14 new articles that examine the most current research on topics such as ethnic differences in expressing pain, gender differences in the work world, the homeless on skid row, hockey violence, outlaw motorcyclists, after dark work and activity, and the experience of extreme isolation. Each article is preceded by a concise introduction, which highlights for both professors and students the important understandings to be gained.

Compatible with all introductory texts, this edition comes with an Instructor's Manual and Test Bank, written by Henslin, that offers practical teaching suggestions for each article.

FROM POOR LAW TO WELFARE STATE
A History of Social Welfare in America
Fourth Edition
Walter I. Trattner

Comprehensive and clearly written, From Poor Law to Welfare State presents a panoramic overview of social welfare in the United States from the colonial era to the election of President Bush. Extensively revised and updated, this new edition highlights developments in child welfare, public health, mental health—making it a timely and invaluable contribution to the current debates surrounding our nation's social welfare policy.

THE FOCUSED INTERVIEW
A Manual of Problems and Procedures
Robert K. Merton, Marjorie Fiske, and
Patricia L. Kendall

In 1956, The Free Press published The Focused Interview—which outlined a set of seminal techniques aimed at eliciting the specific responses of individuals and groups to particular events and situations. The new edition of this sociological classic—with a new preface by Merton, a select bibliography of writings on the focused interview, and a new introduction—traces the diffusion of Merton's technique from sociology to other fields, including history, psychology, mass media and marketing research.

New for 1989—
MARRIAGE AND FAMILY IN A CHANGING SOCIETY
Third Edition

Edited by James M. Henslin

The third edition of this popular and acclaimed text has been thoroughly revised and updated with over fifty percent new information, including stimulating selections on crises in the family and on the nature and meanings of lasting relationships. Organized to follow the development of the marital life cycle from dating to parenting to divorce to widowhood, here are insightful articles by experts such as Lillian B. Rubin, David Finkelhor, Jessie Bernard, Pepper Schwartz, and many others. This new edition comes with two indexes, a handy statistical appendix, and instructor's manual.

Statistical Software for your Sociology Research

Whether your work requires quick and easy statistical solutions or in-depth data analysis, BMDP has the programs you need.

If It's Simple, Go with SOLO

For quick and easy answers, go with SOLO—the stand-alone solution for non-statisticians. SOLO is a new, inexpensive PC package with a wide range of statistical methods and high resolution exploratory graphics. Menus and fill-in-the-blank panels make it especially easy to learn and use.

SOLO provides a great value—no other statistical package offers so much for such a low cost. If value, ease-of-use, and graphics are important—SOLO is the way to go!

For Sophisticated Statistics, You Can't Beat BMDP

When your research goes beyond the basics, you can't beat BMDP—the most complete package for in-depth data analysis. BMDP is a comprehensive collection of 42 programs, with capabilities ranging from descriptive statistics to advanced multivariate techniques.

The BMDP programs provide flexibility and special methods that go above and far beyond other statistical packages.

For sociology research, BMDP offers frequency tables, log-linear modeling, analysis of variance and covariance, factor analysis, and cluster analysis, plus many other statistical routines.

BMDP is well respected, widely used, and fully supported. No other statistical package provides such a broad range of programs for in-depth data analysis. If your analysis requires accuracy, reliability, and sophisticated statistics—BMDP can't be beat!

And Now BMDP is Easier to Use on the PC

The newest release of BMDP for the PC provides a convenient full screen editor and on-line help, making it easier for users to learn and run the programs.

In addition, PC users can now order the BMDP Plot Enhancer for creating high resolution plots and modifying them as needed for reports or publication.

For the PC, you can pick and choose any combination of BMDP programs to suit your individual needs. There are 42 to choose from, including a new program that can analyze incomplete repeated measures data, and another new program for correspondence analysis.

Also Available for Most Mainframes and Minicomputers

When you order BMDP for a mainframe or minicomputer, you automatically receive the complete library of programs, including the powerful BMDP Data Manager which handles complex data manipulation.

Facilitate Your Data Analysis

Contact us today to receive program descriptions and to learn more about how you can analyze your data with "quick and easy" SOLO or "in-depth" BMDP.

New in the ASA Presidential Series . . .

Cross-National Research in Sociology

Edited by Melvin L. Kohn, The Johns Hopkins University, 1987 ASA President

Although the study of individuals in societies has stretched across national boundaries, most sociological research takes place within the confines of a single nation. How can American sociological research be reconciled with research done in other countries? In Cross-National Research in Sociology Kohn provides a global research perspective by moving away from national cultural, logistic, and linguistic barriers to provide a truly comparative study on the human condition. This volume, stemming from the thematic sessions of the 1987 ASA Annual Meeting, presents the cutting edge of cross-national research. Its distinguished contributors from nine countries describe the theoretical possibilities and limits of this kind of endeavor, consider the difficulties of its implementation, and present a broad range of studies from two-nation comparisons to authentic authentic global research. For sociologists and others doing comparative social research, this is a crucial sourcebook and an important tool for training students.
