Transition to Democracy

The most important set of events of recent times clearly pertain to the expansion of political democracy, first to Southern Europe, then to Latin America, Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, and most recently to much of Africa, including South Africa. No one in the social science or political worlds anticipated these developments.

They present us with a series of issues, the reasons for the breakdown of different kinds of authoritarianism, the transition to democratic structures, and the conditions and prospects for institutionalization of the new regimes. The first topic should be dealt with by a set of papers analyzing the factors leading to breakdown, what were the strains which destabilized dictatorial regimes, some of which had lasted for a half-century or more. The second involves analyses of the transition process, the emergence of mass movements, the pacts formed among new groups to guarantee democratic rights, the organization of elections. The third is perhaps the most important, the ways and extent to which new economic and social structures, including political parties, have developed which affect the likelihood the democratic systems will continue. How do civil societies emerge? Finally, we must deal with legitimacy. How do new regimes gain an accepted title-to-rule, independent of who controls the government, and respect for the law generally?

In the flush of enthusiasm for the new democracies, for the revolutions of the eighties, many forget that the great revolutions--the French in 1789, the Revolution of 1848, the Russian Revolutions in 1917--were failures, that they ended in a rebirth of tyranny and class oppression. Hopefully, the contemporary ones will do much better, perhaps because most have not been violent. But like their predecessors, most of them have initially made the conditions of life for the masses, as well as elites, worse than before. A look at the past may be as important as analyses of the present for understanding future prospects.

To what extent does democracy facilitate or inhibit economic growth? Can the myriad of previously suppressed nationalisms be contained within open political systems? Will the economic and social tensions inherent in rapid social transformation result in new waves of minority scapegoating and extremist movements?

1993 Program Schedule

The official days of the 1993 ASA Annual Meeting are Friday to Tuesday, August 13-17, 1993. The official language of the Annual Meeting is English. Program sessions are scheduled on all five days. There are also three pre-meeting workshops scheduled on Wednesday-Thursday, August 11-12; see Program Notes for complete details.

Most program sessions are 110 minutes in length, followed by a 10-minute break to clear each room and begin the next session. Exceptions are clearly noted in the detailed program schedule. On Friday, August 13, and Sunday-Tuesday, August 15-17, the session turnover schedule is as follows:

8:30 a.m.-10:20 a.m.
10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
12:30 p.m.-2:20 p.m.
2:30 p.m.-4:20 p.m.
4:30 p.m.-6:20 p.m.

The 6:30-8:20 p.m. time slot is normally allocated for Section receptions and member-sponsored activities and meetings of other groups. Thematic Plenaries are scheduled for 8:30-10:30 p.m. on the first and third days of the meeting, the fourth evening of the meeting is an open night, and all activities end by 6:30 p.m. on the fifth day.

On Saturday, August 14, the session schedule was been expanded to allow for a special plenary luncheon focusing on the status of African Americans in Miami. Please note that the schedule for Saturday, the second day of the meeting, looks like this:

8:00 a.m.-9:50 a.m.
10:00 a.m.-11:50 a.m.
12:00 noon-1:20 p.m. (Plenary Luncheon)
1:30-3:20 p.m.
3:30-5:20 p.m.
5:30-7:20 p.m. (Presidential Plenary and Awards Ceremony)
7:30-8:30 p.m. (Honorary Reception)

The second night of the meeting is traditionally "Other Groups" Night, and those activities and meetings have been scheduled in the 8:30-10:30 p.m. time slot as usual.

Please be sure to jot the above schedule variance on your personal meeting schedule so that you are not taken by surprise when you attend sessions on Saturday, August 14.

Plenary Forum: The New ASA Business Meeting

By vote of ASA Council at its January 1993 meeting, the format of the business meeting is being changed this year. Council wishes to create an opportunity for more dialogue with members.

The Business Meeting will be held on Monday, August 16, at 7:00 a.m., with coffee and tea to start the day. The early morning hour is a good time to exchange ideas in an unconstrained way. ASA Officers and Council members are eager to meet and mingle with members at that time. This new forum will provide an opportunity to discuss issues of substantive importance to sociology and ASA. A topic orienting, but not limiting, discussion will be listed in the final Program for the Annual Meeting. A "town meeting" format should allow more dialogue between members and Council.

In some cases, a Section, a caucus or group, or an individual member may wish to present a formal resolution for a vote. In those instances, the resolution should be written out in full, and any supporting materials should be submitted to the ASA Office before the Business Meeting. Please make arrangements with the ASA Office to have summaries of supporting material at the Business Meeting to inform those in attendance. The ASA will duplicate and distribute the full text of any resolution before members are asked to vote.

Members are urged to attend the "Early Bird" coffee and Business Meeting, to meet the Officers and Council members, to comment on important issues the Council will consider, and to propose topics for their consideration. Council encourages members to attend the Business Meeting to help shape the agenda for sociology and ASA and to find out what the issues for the future are going to be, rather than simply reading the minutes to find out what Council has done.

Please join us on Monday morning, August 16, in Fontainebleau A at the Fontainebleau Hilton to discuss the important issues in our profession and Association.

Miami Spotlight

A special luncheon Plenary, three special sessions, and a group of area tours focus attention on this year's meeting site. The substantive program sessions are highlighted below; refer to the "Miami Tours" section for complete information on area tours.

Special Luncheon Plenary

On Saturday, August 14, from 12:00-1:20 p.m., join your colleagues at a luncheon plenary entitled "African Americans: The Miami Experience." The luncheon Plenary, held in Fontainebleau A-B at the Fontainebleau Hilton, is the only event offered during this time slot to permit participation by all meeting registrants. This important session addresses the problems of African Americans in Miami, particularly issues of employment equity within the important tourism industry. This unique Plenary provides an opportunity to learn more about the issues that motivated the recent Miami boycott.

The plenary will be chaired by ASA President Seymour Martin Lipset (George Mason University), and will include William Julius Wilson (University of Chicago), Alejandro Portes (Johns Hopkins University), and H.T. Smith, an attorney in Miami who has mobilized concern about these issues.

Preregistrants who ordered box lunches in advance should have received their tickets with their badge packets. Attendees wishing to order a box lunch on-site should place their reservations at the Tickets Desk in the Grand Ballroom by 3:00 p.m. on Friday, August 13.

Miami Sessions

Fontainebleau Hilton, Voltaire

Organizer and Presider: John S. Miller, University of Arkansas, Little Rock
 Panel: Chris Hope, College of Charleston
Doug Buffalo, University of Arkansas, Little Rock
Terry Trevino-Richard, University of Arkansas, Little Rock
Wilhelmina Perry, Rowan College of New Jersey

In 1991 the ASA participated in a national project to strengthen the major. The project was sponsored by the Association of American Colleges (AAC) and included thirteen different disciplines. The final report is called "Liberal Learning and the Sociology Major" and copies were sent to all chairs. (Additional copies may be purchased through the ASA Teaching Resources Center.)

In the second phase of the project, the AAC selected a set of institutions who would work across the disciplines to undertake change in several majors.

This panel is composed of sociologists who are involved in the phase two efforts. Each will describe how s/he has incorporated or modified the ideas in the original report on the sociology major. Panelists will discuss the successes and difficulties of curricular change so that others might learn from their experience.

Didactic Seminars

Didactic seminars are designed to keep sociologists abreast of recent scholarly trends and developments. Experts considered to be at the forefront of a given field are invited by the Program Committee to conduct these sessions.

Seminar speakers will present materials to explain specialized developments within their topic areas. Seminars are scheduled for two or three hours. Please see the listing below for session details and brief descriptions provided by the leaders.

Attendance at each Didactic Seminar is limited to 50, and prepaid registration is required. Seminar fees are $20. All persons registering for seminars must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting. Those who did not reserve in advance but who wish to attend should check at the Tickets Desk for possible openings.

Using the GSSSession 71, Saturday, August 14, 8:00-9:50 a.m.*Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

James A. Davis, Harvard University and NORC

Tom W. Smith, NORC

Seminar topics: The NORC General Social Survey, its design and content...future changes and innovations...code books, bibliographies, and tapes...how to use it for cross-sectional and third studies. The session is designed for new users but experienced users are welcome. Copies of Davis and Smith, The NORC General Social Survey will be distributed.

Network Analysis

Session 90, Saturday, August 14, 10:00-11:50 a.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Thomas Schott, University of Pittsburgh

The seminar teaches principles for analyzing a social system captured as a network among actors. The measured relations among the actors can be arranged in a matrix for input in a network analysis software program to detect groups such as cliques, to assess centrality of each actor in the system, and much more. The session will show how to prepare data for input, to use the software STRUCTURE and its manual, and to interpret outputs. This will enable novices to perform analyses. (The program and manual may be purchased at the session for $50; a copy may be ensured by e-mailing tschott@pittvms.bitnet or tschott@vms.cis.pitt.edu.)

Hazard Methods and Event History Analysis

Session 107, Saturday, August 14, 1:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Kazuo Yamaguchi, University of Chicago

The workshop introduces major methods and models for the analysis of event-history data based on hazard rate and related models. The three major groups of models covered in the workshop include (1) discrete-time logit models, (2) piecewise constant-rate models based on the maximum likelihood estimation, and (3) proportional hazards and related stratified models based on Cox's partial likelihood estimation. The use of software for the analysis and the interpretation of results as well as the characteristics of models are described for each of these three major groups of models. Other related topics such as the construction of data files, use of time-varying covariates, and models which control for unobserved heterogeneity are also described.

Field Research: The Use of Stories and the Historical Past in Ethnographic Analysis

Session 137, Sunday, August 15, 8:30-11:30 a.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Allen Shelton, University of Georgia

Arthur Wilke, Auburn University

The ethnographic project is being rethought in the post-Geertz, post-Goffman period. Critics/practitioners such as Clifford and Marcus, Clough, Denzin, Rose, and Taussig have pushed for a new ethnographic text to shock the tangible into talking. Drawing on these sources and texts by Walter Benjamin and Deleuze and Guattari, this seminar examines the use of stories, histories, and poetics to construct an alternative ethnography. The focus will be on the reconstruction of an Old South parade and a concurrent protest that took place in Auburn, Alabama. A basic familiarity with traditional ethnographic procedures is the only prerequisite. Patricia Clough, Norman Denzin, Caroline Ellis, Kathryn Hausbeck, Joseph Kotarba, and Laurel Richardson will give brief presentations on topics within their areas of expertise and the seminar subject.

Research Methods for Cultural Sociology

Session 187, Sunday, August 15, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Wendy Griswold, University of Chicago

This seminar is for people interested in assessing the recent turn toward cultural studies in sociology, especially those planning research involving cultural analysis. It will cover seven topics: (1) interpretive and structural approaches to cultural analysis; (2) specification of the cultural object of analysis; (3) genres and cultural comprehension; (4) producing agents and intentions; (5) reception; (6) the status of explanation in cultural analysis; and (7) the question of validity.

Visual Sociology

Session 205, Sunday, August 15, 4:30-6:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Douglas Harper, University of South Florida

This seminar is intended for sociologists interested in bringing the visual dimension into their thinking, teaching, and research. Broadly speaking, this session will cover the applications of semiotics, documentary photography and photo elicitation to teaching, research, and publication. The seminar will cover such questions as: "How do we read society in the images we consume in daily life?", "How can we encourage students to explore sociological concepts through visual methods?", and "How can we construct texts with our subjects through the analysis of visual portrayals of their social worlds?" The seminar will introduce terms on a theoretical level but will concentrate on practical applications in teaching, research, and publication.

Logit and Log-Linear Models

Session 226, Monday, August 16, 8:30-10:20 a.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Thomas W. Pullum, University of Texas, Austin

This seminar is intended for participants who are familiar with the basic concepts of statistical inference but have little formal knowledge of log linear models or logit regression. The emphasis will be on similarities to, and differences from, the analysis of interval-level variables; linkages between logit and log linear models; and interpreting coefficients produced by some of the major computer packages. The presentation will be organized around examples from demography and will include copies of annotated computer output.

Feminist Methodology

Session 243, Monday, August 16, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Mary Margaret Fonow, The Ohio State University

Judith A. Cook, Thresholds National Research and Training Center and University of Chicago

This seminar will present an overview of recent developments in feminist epistemology and methodology with attention to the applicability of these approaches to a wide range of research topics in the study of gender. The co-facilitators will present exemplars from their own research on women with AIDS, women steelworkers and protest, lesbian panels in the classroom, women with severe mental illness, gender and grief, and the advisory role of feminists in government. Attention will be given to the relationship between the formulation of research questions and the selection of method, research bias, feminist ethics, and the use and misuse of "experience" in feminist research projects.

Sequence Analysis

Session 276, Monday, August 16, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Fee: $20; ticket required for admission

Andrew Abbott, University of Chicago

This seminar discusses new techniques for finding and studying regular patterns in sequence data. Examples of such data include life course patterns, occupational careers, organizational histories, and other such ordered lists of events. The patterns sought include typical histories, turning points, common subpatterns, and other such ordered regularities. The techniques involved are simply dynamic minimization algorithms that can be understood by any sociologist who understands standard methods. Advanced mathematics is not required. Several examples will be considered. A simple software package will be used for illustration and distributed to participants.

Professional Workshops

Professional Workshops are a standard component of the Annual Meeting. The eleven workshops on this year's program roster provide opportunities for attendees to update their knowledge and skills in a variety of professional areas. Workshops are generally open to all meeting registrants; however, please note that the pre-meeting workshops required advance registration and fee payment.

Skill-Building Workshop: Conducting Social Impact Assessment

Session A, Wednesday, August 11, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 1:30-3:30 p.m.; Thursday, August 12, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 1:00-3:30 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Imperial II

Fees: $200 Students and low-income Members (below $15,000); $250 other ASA Members; $350 Nonmembers; includes breakfasts, breaks, reception, and workshop materials.

Rabel J. Burdge, Institute for Environmental Studies, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Desmond M. Connor, Connor Development Services, Ltd.

This intensive two-day workshop will offer the skills and theory essential to conducting Social Impact Assessment (SIA), with a particular emphasis on the management of social impacts, whether predicted or not. The workshop, which will focus on involvement of various publics impacted by a proposed new policy, program, or project, is intended for sociology academics, practitioners, and graduate students. Topics include: SIA's relationship to the planning process and environmental impact statements; the application of social science research findings to SIA; the use of SIA principles, models and techniques by state, federal, and international agencies; emphasis on the management of impacts and a generic model of the public participation process. A recent case study of managing social impacts of a major construction project on a community of 7,000 participants will serve as a design practicum. Participants may attend a special reception Thursday evening to meet other sociologists who conduct SIA in a variety of settings.

Skill-Building Workshop. Follow-up to 1992 Workshop: Moderating Focus Groups for Marketing and Social Research

Session B, Thursday, August 12, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 1:30-5:30 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Pasteur

Fee: $75, ASA Graduate Student and low-income Members (below $15,000); $100, other ASA Members; $150, non-members. Fees include breakfast, breaks, and workshop materials.

Janet Mancini Billson, American Sociological Association

This one day workshop is open only to those who participated in the 1992 Skill-building Workshop: Moderating Focus Groups for Marketing and Social Research. Participants will have an opportunity to review their progress and continue training in this method; further work on data analysis and report writing will be included.

Research on the Profession (co-sponsored by the ASA Research on the Profession Program)

Session 59, Friday, August 13, 4:30-6:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Organizer: Rita Kirshstein, ASA Committee for Research on the Profession

Panel: Carla B. Howery, American Sociological Association

Steven Tuch, George Washington University

Rachelle Cummins, George Washington University

Jack Harkins, College of DuPage

Patricia White, National Science Foundation

The ASA's Research on the Profession Program will report on its Department Chair survey and describe its plans for future data collection and research activities. In addition, the session will provide a forum for participants to suggest areas in which studies on the profession of sociology are needed.

The workshop will also include presentations by others whose work has entailed research on the profession of sociology. Handouts will be provided on available data which include information on sociology and on individuals whose research covers issues of concern to the profession.

Getting Research Grants: Opportunities for Federal Funding

Session 91, Saturday, August 14, 10:00-11:50 a.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Organizer: Felice J. Levine, American Sociological Association

Panel: William Sims Bainbridge, National Science Foundation

Nancy Moss, National Institute of Child Health and Human Development

Ann A. Hohmann, National Institute of Mental Health

Katrina Johnson, National Institute on Aging

Negotiating the Business and Non-Profit Job Market

Session 108, Saturday, August 14, 1:30-3:20 p.m.

Quality Shawnee Beach Resort, Surfside West

Organizer: Janet Mancini Billson, American Sociological Association

Panel: George Bohrnstedt, American Institutes for Research

Stephen Collesano, American International Group

Joan Waring, The Equitable

David Woodrow, Standard and Poors

Numerous sociologists work in the private and non-profit sectors, bringing sociological perspectives and methods to bear in creative projects and research. Panelists will discuss how to find, keep, advance in, and stay satisfied with careers in these sectors. Veterans with experiences to share, as well as department chairs and academic advisors, are invited to join the interchange.

The Code of Ethics and the Teaching Role (co-sponsored by the ASA Committee on Teaching and the ASA Committee on Professional Ethics)

Session 153, Sunday, August 15, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Organizer: Carla B. Howery, American Sociological Association

President: William Rau, Illinois State University

Panel: J. Michael Armer, Florida State University

Gary Long, University of Mississippi

William Rau, Illinois State University

Mary Lou Wylie, James Madison University

The Code of Ethics is a dynamic document. It will undergo revision in the next year.

The Committee on Teaching is working with the Committee on Professional Ethics to suggest ways to strengthen the Code to exalt ethical behavior between faculty and students and among faculty. The discussion will cover topics such as training of teaching assistants, supervision of adjunct faculty, quality control in teaching, and standards for advising. A number of case studies will be used to stimulate discussion on areas where more carefully crafted language is needed.

Negotiating the Academic Job Market

Session 188, Sunday, August 15, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Burgundy

Organizer: Janet Mancini Billson, American Sociological Association

Panel: Catherine White Berheide, Skidmore College

Paula J. Dubeck, University of Cincinnati

Richard H. Hall, State University of New York, Albany

Beth Hess, County College of Morris

Bruce B. Williams, University of Mississippi

This workshop will consider the preparation needed for being competitive in the academic job market, strategies for pursuing job openings, and circumstances to consider when interviewing for academic positions. The panelists will offer ideas but will expect participation from workshop attendees. Department chairs and academic advisors are encouraged to attend.

Dealing with the Press: Pitfalls and Opportunities

Session 206, Sunday, August 15, 4:30-6:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Burgundy

Organizer: Rachelle B. Warren, RWB Associates

Joan Vitek Hiller, Willowbrook Organizational Development

Donald W. Light, University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey

Pepper J. Schwartz, University of Washington

Wayne Youngquist, WISN-TV, Milwaukee

Panelists will discuss how they bring sociology into the daily news, and when and how to talk with broadcast and print journalists. The workshop will focus on both the organizational structure of various media outlets and guidelines for presenting your research and ideas to the press.

Negotiating the Government Job Market

Session 261, Monday, August 16, 12:30-2:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Organizer: Janet Mancini Billson, American Sociological Association

Panel: Robert Dotzler, Internal Revenue Service

Mary McIntosh, U.S. Information Agency

Karen Schwab, Walter Reed Army Medical Center

Lynne Lackey, U.S. Public Health Service

Donald S. Bradley, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development

This workshop will explore employment and career opportunities in the federal government for sociology graduates with PhDs and MAs. The new ASA Employment Network, which helps sociologists access government positions, will be explained. Practical issues include: the role and work of sociologists in government, approaches to job seeking, preparing Standard Form 171, benefits and salary levels, and networking. Department chairs and academic advisors are encouraged to attend.

Teaching Workshops

Teaching Workshops are a popular part of each Annual Meeting program. There are 15 workshops on this year's program roster. These sessions provide opportunities for attendees to update their teaching skills and discover ways to integrate new material into their courses. Teaching workshops emphasize interaction between leaders and audience, and attendees are encouraged to bring questions or problems for discussion and new ideas to enliven classroom activities. Workshops are generally open to all meeting registrants; however, please note that there is one pre-meeting workshop which required advance registration and fee payment.

Academic Leadership: The Role of the Chair

Session C, Thursday, August 12, 9:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Imperial III

Fees: $75 ASA Members, $100 Non-members; includes lunch, breaks, and workshop materials.

Lee H. Bowker, Humboldt State University

Barbara Keating, Mankato State University

Dennis McSeveney, University of New Orleans

Designed to acquaint sociology department chairs and chair-designees with material on the undergraduate curriculum, faculty evaluation, departmental planning, resource acquisition, the uses of the power of the chair, faculty motivation and faculty development. Case studies will be used to stimulate discussion on representative dilemmas faced by department chairs.

Teaching Sociology of Formal Organizations

Session 17, Friday, August 13, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Richard H. Hall, University at Albany, State University of New York

Nancy DiTomaso, Rutgers Graduate School of Management

This workshop is designed for those who have taught courses on organizations in either sociology or business schools and who are looking for ways to make the course more interesting for their students and themselves. We will discuss ways in which experiences and cases can be built into research based course materials. The emphasis will be on alternative techniques of presentation. Handouts will be provided.

Teaching Sociology of Religion

Session 45, Friday, August 13, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Dallas A. Blanchard, University of West Florida

The goals of this session are to examine the use of learning reports in teaching the sociology of religion and to explain learning logs, learning experiences, integrating theories and experiences, and evaluating learning reports.

Establishing a Sociological Practice Curriculum

Session 92, Saturday, August 14, 10:00-11:50 a.m.

Quality Shawnee Beach Resort, Surfside West

Novella Perrin, Central Missouri State University

This workshop defines the sociological practice field and offers information on the benefits of a practice curriculum. The workshop also will offer suggestions on how to design a practice curriculum that includes courses on intervention skills, applications of sociological perspectives in solving social problems, and internship/practicum models.

Applying for Grants for the First Time: Curriculum Enhancement, Faculty Development, and Other Educationally Related Programs of the Federal Government

Session 109, Saturday, August 14, 1:30-3:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Organizer and President: Carla B. Howery, American Sociological Association

Andrew Beveridge, Queens College, City University of New York

Thomas Cushman, Wellesley College

Linda Fritschner, Indiana University, South Bend

This workshop will review funding opportunities in the National Science Foundation's Education Directorate. The directorate has many exciting programs for faculty, including special initiatives for two- and four-year college collaboration, work with secondary school teachers, and attention to introductory (social) science courses. The panelists are grant recipients who can share their advice on the elements of strong proposals.

Outcome Assessment and Departmental Reviews

Session 124, Saturday, August 14, 3:30-5:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Robert Davis, North Carolina A&T State University

Stephen Sharkey, Alverno College

This workshop is for those seeking to implement an assessment process in their courses and/or department. We will set context by discussing the national assessment movement, then define and illustrate two broad assessment approaches: (1) assessment as learning, which focuses on individual student development; and (2) aggregate level program assessment or evaluation. We will explore how these approaches complement each other and can address questions about undergraduate educational "quality" and "effectiveness" emerging at the institutional level from a state mandate or accreditation visit. We will share concrete examples of successful strategies and conduct exercises to help workshop participants develop assessment materials to bring back to their home campuses.

Teaching Sociology of Children

Session 138, Sunday, August 15, 8:30-10:20 a.m.

Eden Roc Hotel, Paladium

Organizer and Presider: Maureen Kelleher, Northeastern University

Panel: William A. Corsaro, Indiana University

David M. Hummon, Holy Cross College

Gertrud Lenzler, City University of New York

Sue Marie Wright, University of Oregon

This workshop draws on the rich scholarship on sociology of children and the new ASA Section on Sociology of Children. Presenters will discuss how to find new sources to include in existing courses, e.g., marriage and the family, and models for free-standing courses on children.

Teaching Writing within the Sociology Curriculum

Session 154, Sunday, August 15, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Eden Roc Hotel, Paladium

Marjory Kinney, Bowling Green State University

Keith Roberts, Hanover College

The goal of this workshop is to help instructors develop assignments which will teach both sociological concepts and writing. We will focus on: integrating assignments with the goals of the course, discovering purpose, stipulating audience, using models and developing guidelines for students. Handouts will be provided; participants are asked to bring a syllabus for a course for which they wish to design an assignment or a writing assignment they wish to make more effective.

Bringing Multicultural and International Education into the Curriculum Using Visual Sociology

Session 172, Sunday, August 15, 12:30-2:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Burgundy

Diana Papademas, State University of New York, Old Westbury

Vaneeta-Marie D'Andrea, Oxford Brooks University

This workshop is designed for those who have or have not taught courses that incorporate a multicultural and/or international perspective, ranging from introductory courses to advanced comparative sociology courses as well as the substantive array that can be enhanced with this perspective. Using visual sociology, the incorporation of visual media, photography, film, and video, the leaders will present two models from their teaching practice. The workshop will include participation in the planning and development of bringing multicultural and international perspectives into the curriculum of sociology and into various courses. Resource materials will be handed out.

Software for Sociology Instruction

Session 189, Sunday, August 15, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Judith C. Stull, La Salle University

Fred Halley, State University of New York, Brockport

Gregg Carter, Bryant College

The workshop will focus on integrating software into instructional settings. A variety of packages will be demonstrated. Suggestions on teaching applications will be made.

Teaching Introductory Sociology for the First Time

Session 207, Sunday, August 15, 4:30-6:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Diane E. Taub, Southern Illinois University

Stephen F. Steels, Anne Arundel Community College

As a portal to sociology, the introductory course must be a well organized, enthusiastic presentation of the basic knowledge, skills, and applications in the field. This workshop will address five important areas in course development: mechanics (syllabus construction, textbooks), selected content concerns (multiculturalism, applied sociology), classroom dynamics (beyond lecture and discussion, teaching alternatives), evaluation (exams, exercises), and handling difficult issues and barriers to learning ("What if they hate sociology?").

Teaching Sociology of Development

Session 262, Monday, August 16, 12:30-2:20 p.m.

Eden Roc Hotel, Paladium

Akbar Mahdi, Ohio Wesleyan University

Kathryn Ward, Southern Illinois University

This workshop discusses (a) various problems in teaching about developing countries, (b) approaches to women in development, (c) different pedagogical strategies for teaching development, (d) several curricular tools and resources, (e) suggestions for student project and field experience, and (f) strategies for insuring a balanced approach to development.

Teaching Latina/o Studies within Sociology

Session 277, Monday, August 16, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Homer D.C. Garcia, Baylor University

Mary Romero, University of Oregon

Teaching Sociology in High School

Session 312, Tuesday, August 17, 8:30-10:20 a.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Paul S. Gray, Boston College

Paul Lindsay, University of North Carolina, Greensboro

Participants will share ideas concerning the content of sociology courses in secondary schools, both as appropriate foundation for college learning and as a basis for citizenship education. Emphasis will be placed on successful teaching experiences, curriculum development, and student-conducted research.

Teaching Sociology Off Campus

Session 327, Tuesday, August 17, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Vinetta Witt, Midlands Technical College

This workshop deals with issues relating to the teaching of sociology in "non-traditional" settings--i.e., in areas and for students other than the traditional community college and university environments. These settings include diverse sites such as correctional facilities and military bases as well as a variety of internship programs designed to provide opportunities for "real-life" learning and application of sociological principles. The focus of this workshop will be upon the similarities and differences between these and more traditional teaching experiences, including specific ways of maximizing teaching effectiveness in off-campus settings.

Regular Sessions

Regular Sessions are comprised of papers submitted by the ASA membership in response to the 1993 Call for Papers. Seventy-one general topics were announced for open submission, and the designated organizers each received anywhere from 4 to 45 submissions for review. A total of 141 formal paper sessions were organized from the submitted papers. (Last year 133 sessions were formed from 65 announced topics.) Please refer to the body of the Program for details on each Regular Session.

Scholar-To-Scholar Sessions

This new component of the program features a series of poster display presentations that allow face-to-face conversation between authors and viewers. By facilitating informal discussions between presenters and "browsers", Scholar-To-Scholar sessions provide a more intimate forum for exchange than do formal paper presentations.

Four sessions have been arranged from submissions recommended by general topic organizers and Section session organizers. These display sessions will be located in the Grand Ballroom at the Fontainebleau Hilton, adjacent to the exhibits. Be sure to include some time in your schedule to visit this area and browse through these presentations!

Race, Ethnicity

Session 93, Saturday, August 14, 10:00-11:50 a.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Grand Ballroom

Social Psychology, Symbolic Interaction, Social Networks, Group Processes

Session 155, Sunday, August 15, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Grand Ballroom

Crime, Deviance, Historical Methods, Mathematical Sociology, Population, Visual Sociology, World System

Session 191, Sunday, August 15, 2:30-4:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Grand Ballroom

AIDS, Sex and Gender, Human Sexuality, Medical Sociology, Risk, Education

Session 244, Monday, August 16, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Grand Ballroom

Informal Discussion Roundtables

This popular program component is designed to bring together small groups of people interested in discussing specific topics. The 1993 Program Committee invited Katrina Johnson (National Institute on Aging) and Donna Cox (University of Maryland) to review proposals and select topics and discussion leaders

Again this year the informal discussions have been organized around general topics. Please refer to the body of the Program for complete details on these sessions. Since several discussions are held simultaneously in one large meeting room, no audiovisual equipment or recording devices may be used and no papers will be prepared for distribution.

Kids of All Ages: Society and Education

Session 60, Friday, August 13, 4:30-6:20 p.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Club Atlantic

World Perspectives in Sociological Research

Session 139, Sunday, August 15, 8:30-10:20 a.m.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Fontainebleau A

Funding Opportunities Day

Saturday, August 14, is designated as Research Funding Day at the 1993 ASA Annual Meeting. The events of the day will bring together social scientists with the most active members of the funding community. As an ASA annual meeting participant, it is your chance to learn about funding for social science projects.

The morning will include an interactive workshop on research funding. This session will focus explicitly on opportunities for federal funding (Session 91, Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco). Panel members from key science agencies will describe programs and initiatives, criteria of funding, and the element of competitive proposals. Attendees may also want to note Special Session 204 (Fontainebleau Hilton, Fontainebleau B), Sunday, August 15, 4:30-6:20 p.m., on perspectives and opportunities for the social sciences in the Clinton Administration and beyond.

Saturday afternoon will be devoted to an inclusive poster session designed to provide research social scientists, practitioners, and students, a forum for learning about funding opportunities from a variety of public and private organizations. Participants can walk among and browse at organizational and agency displays of funding options for social scientists. Funding representatives will be on hand at each display to discuss their program or agency's: (1) funding priorities, (2) application procedures, (3) and review processes. The event is designed to elicit questions that might not be aired in a more formal session.

See Session 110 for a concise listing of agencies and representatives, then turn to the end of the program schedule for brief descriptions of programs and funding initiatives.

ASA is excited about its role in bringing the best of the sociological research community together with the best of the funding community in one central location. Please join in this informative exchange.

Section Activities

Section activities are interspersed through the five-day schedule of the Annual Meeting and are open to all meeting attendees. These specialized sessions range in format from formal paper presentations to panels and discussion roundtables. The number of sessions allocated to each Section is based on the size of the Section; for the 32 active sessions, there are a total of 122 program sessions scheduled. There is also one new section-in-information--Rational Choice--for which an organizational meeting has been scheduled. Section Council and Business meetings, program sessions, and receptions are summarized below for quick reference; for more complete information, refer to the body of the program schedule. Days of the Annual Meeting are Friday, August 13; Saturday, August 14; Sunday, August 15, Monday, August 16; and Tuesday, August 17.

Miami Tours

Your visit to Miami will not be complete without participating in at least one, or perhaps several, of the special tours coordinated by Doug Kincaid, Florida International University. Miami's rich cultural diversity and international flavor can best be experienced in a tour to one of the city's vibrant neighborhoods. Also of particular interest this year will be a visit to the Homestead area that will focus on the rebuilding and recovery process in the aftermath of Hurricane Andrew. Visiting the Art Deco District, exploring Miami by boat, and attending a major league baseball game are other tour opportunities being offered.

The schedule of tours is provided below. Reservations are mandatory. Please check at the Tickets Desk in the Grand Ballroom for availability and any late cancellations. Those already enrolled in tours should have received their tickets with their name badges.

All tours will depart from the Fontainebleau Hilton. Attendees should meet in the designated orientation area as shown below. Please arrive promptly so that departure times may be observed. Keep in mind that arrival times back to the Hilton are estimates only and may vary somewhat due to traffic congestion.

TOUR 1: Florida Marlins Baseball Game

Thursday, August 12, 6:30 p.m. departure

Fee: $15.00

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

Baseball fans will enjoy seeing the Florida Marlins, a Major League Baseball expansion team, during their inaugural year. The Marlins will meet the Chicago Cubs in a game beginning at 7:35 p.m. at Joe Robbie Stadium, "South Florida's new home of Big League Baseball." (Bus drop off/pick up--limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 2: Little Havana

Friday, August 13, 10:45 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

Fee: $10.00 (excludes lunch)

Tour Leaders: Lisandro Perez, Cuban Research Institute, Florida International University; Guillermo Grenier, Florida International University

Orientation Area: Pasteur Room

The massive influx of Cubans into Miami in the wake of Cuba's revolutionary transformation in the early 1960's established the basis for what is now the third-largest Latino community in the U.S. and the mecca for Cuban-Americans. Accounting for half the population of the metropolitan area, Latinos have made their presence felt throughout south Florida. The tour will center on those areas where the Cuban presence is most evident, the east-west corridor of SW 8th Street, especially Little Havana. It was in Little Havana that the Cubans first settled and the area that still receives many of the new arrivals from Cuba and throughout Latin America. Little Havana today bears the stamp of Latin America and the triumphs and scars of exile. Former Cuban presidents are buried in its cemetery, older Cubans play dominoes in its parks, it bustles with the entrepreneurial activity that characterizes the community, and there are statues and markers erected to commemorate the events and persons important to Cuban Americans. The tour will stop for lunch (not included in tour fee) in one of the many Cuban restaurants in Little Havana, known for their informality and hearty fare. (Bus tour/some walking--limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 3: Hurricane Andrew Recovery Process

Saturday, August 14, 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m.

Fee: $10.00 (excludes lunch)

Tour Leaders: Walter Peacock and Betty Morrow, Florida International University

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

One year ago Hurricane Andrew ripped through south Dade County, destroying over 25,000 homes and severely damaging another 50,000, displacing over 200,000 people. The total economic impact is estimated to exceed $25 billion, making Andrew the costliest natural disaster in U.S. history. The most heavily impacted zone includes urban and rural areas of great diversity, ranging from high-rise office complexes and affluent communities in Kendall to the farmworker trailer parks southwest of Homestead. The area is a patchwork of communities and diverse residents, including White and Black, Hispanic and non-Hispanic, descendants of early settlers and newly arrived immigrants. In addition to Cubans and African-Americans, other minorities in the area include African-Caribbeans (mostly Haitians), Central and South Americans, Mexicans and Mexican-Americans. Our tour will focus on the rebuilding and recovery process, paying particular attention to ethnic and class variations. We will go through affluent to working-class neighborhoods, public housing projects, and temporary F.E.M.A. trailer parks. The tour stops at a community of new homes being built by farmworker families using "sweat-equity" and low-interest loans where the directors of the Centro Campesino Farmworker Center will describe their community-based programs. A lunch stop (not included in tour fee) will be made at a Mexican-American-owned restaurant in Homestead. (Bus excursion with some walking--Limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 4: Art Deco District

Saturday, August 14, 10:00 a.m.-12:00 noon

Fee: $10.00

Tour Leader: staff of Miami Design Preservation League

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

Enjoy a stroll through the Miami Beach Architectural District, the largest and most cohesive concentration of Art Deco buildings in the world. The tour provides a unique opportunity to explore Deco-age arts and architecture, examine historic preservation efforts in the face of the current development boom in the zone, and experience the excitement of South Beach. Ocean Drive and Collins Avenue are the focal points of the tour, which will begin and end at the Art Deco Welcome Center. At the center you may purchase Deco-inspired art, posters, jewelry, and books. (Bus drop off/pick up--limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 5: Black Miami

Saturday, August 14, 11:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

Fee: $10.00 (excludes lunch)

Tour Leader: staff of Black Archives, History and Research Foundation

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

Partly despite and partly because of Miami's historical development as a segregated Southern city, a vibrant black community emerged in counterpoint to the city's tourist enclaves. More recently, the African-American presence has been greatly diversified by the arrival of immigrants from Haiti and elsewhere in the Caribbean Basin. This tour will focus on the changing urban forms and social identities of black Miami, including visits to Overtown (the city's first black residential and commercial district), Liberty City, Little Haiti, and the "Black Grove" (a section of Coconut Grove originally settled by Bahamian immigrants at the turn of the century). The tour will allow time for lunch (not included in tour fee) at the Caribbean Marketplace in Little Haiti. (Bus/Walking Tour--limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 6: Coral Gables and Coconut Grove

Saturday, August 14, 1:00-4:00 p.m.

Fee: $15.00

Tour Leader: Paul George, Miami-Dade Community College

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

ASA is pleased to introduce Dr. Paul George to meeting attendees. A past president of the Florida Historical Society, Dr. George is well known in the Miami area for his tour leadership with the Historical Museum of Southern Florida. He is on the social science faculty at Miami-Dade Community College and is an adjunct professor of history with Florida Atlantic University, in addition to serving as Curator/Historian for the Historical Association of Southern Florida and as a Director on the Historic Broward County Preservation Board.

Visit two of Miami's most distinctive communities. A beautiful boom-era (1920s) city based on a Spanish architectural motif, Coral Gables was the creation of George Merrick, a pioneer resident of the area. See Merrick's early home, the stunning Venetian Pool, Biltmore Hotel, and other important historical sites. Across U.S. 1, the tour enters Coconut Grove, which began a century ago as a homesteading community on Biscayne Bay with a large, avant-garde winter tourist roster, soon joined by an immigrant community of black Bahamians. Learn about the Grove's many changes in identity since then while seeing the rustic Main Highway, Millionaires Row, and sites of Pan Am's clipper ship base, the Peacock Inn, and numerous other points of historic interest. (Bus tour--limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 7: Art Deco District

Sunday, August 15, 10:00 a.m.-12:00 noon

Fee: $10.00

Tour Leader: staff of Miami Design Preservation League

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

Enjoy a stroll through the Miami Beach Architectural District, the largest and most cohesive concentration of Art Deco buildings in the world. The tour provides a unique opportunity to explore Deco-age arts and architecture, examine historic preservation efforts in the face of the current development boom in the zone, and experience the excitement of South Beach. Ocean Drive and Collins Avenue are the focal points of the tour, which will begin and end at the Art Deco Welcome Center. At the center you may purchase Deco-inspired art, posters, jewelry, and books. (Bus drop off/pick up—limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 8: Asian Indians In South Florida

Sunday, August 15, 10:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

Fee: $15.00 (includes lunch)

Tour Leader: Carol Sheikh, Florida International University

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

Since the early 1960s, there has been a large movement of Asian Indians into the United States. Unlike other new immigrant groups, many of them are arriving with fluent English and advanced degrees in medicine, engineering, or business, and they have often settled into affluent suburban communities. South Florida is one receiving region for this flow, but with a twist—the flow includes both Asian Indian immigrants and Caribbean immigrants of Asian Indian descent, resulting in complex overlays of ethnicity and class in the construction of social identities. This tour will visit one such site in Boca Raton, centering on a visit to the home of a prominent leader of the local Indian community, where a traditional Indian meal and entertainment will be provided. In addition, other members of the community will be present for discussion and social interaction. (Bus excursion—limited to 15 participants)

TOUR 9: Miami River and Biscayne Bay Boat Tour

Sunday, August 15, 9:30 a.m.-1:15 p.m.

Fee: $35.00 (includes box lunch)

Tour Leader: Paul George, Miami-Dade Community College

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

Dr. Paul George has spoken to a myriad of groups on Florida history topics. In conjunction with the Historical Museum of Southern Florida, he offers more than twenty walking and boat tours of areas, neighborhoods, and waterways in Dade and Broward Counties during the fall, winter, and spring. ASA is pleased to offer his services to meeting attendees this summer. (For a brief introduction about Dr. George, please refer to Tour 6.)

For visitors at the turn of the century, there was no more popular way of exploring Miami than by boat, and it is still one of the best ways to see the city. The Miami River, opening into Biscayne Bay in the center of downtown Miami, represents one of the city's most important historical features. Travel up the river on an excursion boat, getting a close-up view of the river port facilities, active boatyards, restaurants, and several of Miami's oldest structures, while also learning about the river's earlier eras, encompassing Tequesta Indian encampments, slave plantations, army forts, and homesteader residences. The tour will also take in some of the many sights of Biscayne Bay, including the Villa Vizcaya Estate, Brickell Avenue financial district, and cruise ship berths. A box lunch will be provided on the boat. (Bus drop off and pick up/ Boat excursion—limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 10: Ethnic Diversity and Community Bridge-Building In Greater Miami

(co-sponsored with ASA Section on Peace and War)

Monday, August 16, 8:30 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

Fee: $10.00 (excludes lunch)

Tour Leader: Max Castro, Vista Institute of Hispanic Studies

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

A bus tour of major ethnic areas in greater Miami. The tour will stop in Little Managua, Little Haiti, Liberty City and Little Havana. At each stop there will be visits to community agencies. These will include the Caribbean Marketplace (Little Haiti), the Entrepreneurship Center (in Liberty City, part of Miami-Dade Community College) and the Nutrition Activities Center (a multigenerational day-care and senior-citizen agency in Little Havana). The tour will end with lunch (not included in tour fee) at a Cuban restaurant combined with a meeting with community leaders. The latter will include (tentatively): Josefina Carbonel, Director, Little Havana Activities Center; Antonia Gary, Director, Liberty City Entrepreneurship Center; and Rev. Thomas Wenski, pastor of Notre Dame D'Haiti Church. (Bus and walking tour—limited to 40 participants)

TOUR 11: Jewish Miami Beach

Monday, August 16, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon

Fee: $10.00

Tour Leader: Abe Lavender, Florida International University

Orientation Area: Grand Gallerie

For several decades after its founding in 1915, Miami Beach had housing, hotel, and club restrictions against Jews. After World War II, however, the city became the most Jewish city of its size in the United States. The tour will pass through the Art Deco District and South Pointe area where many of the small apartment-hotels that served as housing for blue collar Jewish retirees are now being gentrified. The tour will visit the Beth Jacob Congregation, the oldest synagogue in Miami Beach, which is listed as a historical site and is being renovated as a museum to house the well-known Mosaic collection portraying the history of Jews throughout Florida. Hispanic Jews have added diversity to the local community, and the Cuban Hebrew Congregation on 17th Street will be visited briefly. The tour will end with a visit to the stunning Holocaust Memorial, with its large circular plaza and reflecting pool, 42-foot-high bronze sculpture topped by a beseeching hand, and Memorial Wall with names of Holocaust victims. (Bus tour/some walking—limited to 40 participants)

Student Activities

The ASA Membership Committee and the Honors Program Student Association have made special efforts to make undergraduate and graduate students feel welcome at the Annual Meeting.

Student Center. Students attending the Annual Meeting may make use of the Student Center located in Conference Room 1 on Level III of the Fontainebleau Hilton. The center will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Friday through Monday, August 13-16, and 8:00 a.m. 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 17, to provide a place for students to meet, make dinner arrangements, caucus, etc. All students attending the Annual Meeting are welcome to use this hospitality room. Some refreshments will be provided each day.

Student Reception. An informal reception, co-hosted by the Membership Committee and the Honors Program Student Association, will be held on Saturday, August 14, at 7:30 p.m. All students registered to attend the Annual Meeting are invited to this lively social gathering.

Student Sessions. Several student sessions have been organized by the ASA Honors Program, and some Sections have sponsored special tables during their roundtable sessions for student papers. See sessions 27, 55, 66, 151, 202, 292, and 322 in the program schedule for complete details.

An additional student workshop sponsored by the Honors Program but not part of the formal Annual Meeting program appears below.

Special Student Workshop. Practical Problems and Solutions In Qualitative Methods

Saturday, August 14, 1:30-3:20 p.m.

Eden Roc Hotel, Mona Lisa

Organizer and Presider: Christopher Wellin, Northwestern University

Welcoming and Orientation Party

All new members of the Association, and those who would like to know more about ASA's governance structure and how to become involved in ASA activities, are invited to the Welcoming Party on Friday, August 13, from 6:30-8:00 p.m.

This welcome is sponsored by the ASA Membership Committee. Members of ASA Committees and Sections and several ASA officers will be on hand to discuss avenues for formal and informal involvement in the Association. New members and first-time meeting participants are particularly encouraged to be present for this informative event. Bring the Welcoming Party flyer from your program packet with you to exchange for a free beverage!

DAN

Be sure your meeting schedule for Friday, August 13, includes the twentieth annual Departmental Alumni Night (DAN), where sociologists from around the world meet to reminisce about graduate school days, relay recent rumors, and create new coalitions!

The gathering will begin when the opening plenary session concludes, around 10:30 p.m., and plenty of time is provided for chatting and meeting colleagues and alumni.

Each graduate department of sociology in the United States and Canada was invited to fly its banner and wave its signpost to attract alumni and friends. Tables will also be provided for sociologists in business and industry, international scholars and guests, and students.

Make sure your meeting plans include the social event that brings all your friends together in one place at one time. Join the alumni interaction in Fontainebleau A-B-C on Level II of the Fontainebleau Hilton at 10:30 p.m. on Friday the 13th!

In Remembrance

During the Presidential Address and Awards Ceremony (Saturday, August 14, 5:30-7:20 p.m.), there will be a "Moment of Silence" to remember those members of the ASA who died during the last year. Names submitted to Footnotes for September 1992-August 1993 are listed below. If you know of other sociologists who should be on this list but whose names do not appear below, please contact the ASA Office prior to the Ceremony.

Honorary Reception

For the past ten years, the American Sociological Association has been joined by social science departments and regional societies in co-sponsoring the annual Honorary Reception that follows the President's address and the ASA Awards Ceremony. This year the Association is pleased to acknowledge the Sponsors and Donors of the Honorary Reception.

Sponsors:

George Mason University--Department of Sociology and Anthropology and the Institute of Public Policy;
 University of Miami--Department of Sociology;
 University of South Florida--Department of Sociology; and Stanford University--Department of Sociology, Department of Political Science, and the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace;
 Stetson University--Department of Sociology;
 The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, Washington, DC.

Donors:

Association for the Social Scientific Study of Jewry

All meeting participants are invited to join with our co-sponsors at the Honorary Reception in Fontainebleau A-B of the Fontainebleau Hilton at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, August 14, to express our appreciation, congratulations, and best wishes to the President and major award winners on what promises to be a festive occasion!

Biscayne Bay Evening Cruise

The ASA Teaching Endowment Fund once again is sponsoring a boat trip, Saturday, August 14, 8:30 p.m.-12:00 midnight, after the Presidential Plenary and Honorary Reception. The boat will leave from the docks which are within walking distance from the Fontainebleau Hilton. Everyone must be on board by 8:45 p.m.

The cruise will feature a cash bar, light buffet, music, dancing, people watching, and relaxation from the pace of a convention. You cannot dash off to your next obligation when you are out on a boat!

Please purchase your tickets at the Tickets Desk in the Grand Ballroom; ticket price is $42. Contribute to the Teaching Endowment Fund and have a wonderful--and cool--evening on Biscayne Bay, enjoying friends and the moon over Miami.

Activities of Other Groups

The wide-ranging interests of ASA members generate meetings of special interest groups during each year's Annual Meeting. Space is assigned as available to these groups to hold their meetings in evening time slots when no program sessions or other ASA activities are scheduled. Other groups' activities range from ad hoc sessions sponsored by individual ASA members to meetings of sister/affiliated organizations. Please refer to the list below for times and locations. Unless noted otherwise, activities occur in the Fontainebleau Hilton.

In addition to the scheduled meeting times, some groups will have membership information and publications on display in the Grand Ballroom at the Fontainebleau Hilton.

 Trends and Opportunities in Sociology, Ad Hoc Advisory Group on Sunday, August 15, 7:00-8:20 a.m.--Governors Suite 16A, 16th Floor

The following MFP Fellows are participating in this year's Annual Meeting Program. ASA and the 1993 Program Committee are pleased to highlight these professional activities of current and former Fellows. The Minority Fellowship Program (MFP), in operation since 1974, has been a significant factor in recruiting minorities into sociology. Fellows continue to make important contributions to the growth of the discipline. The Association takes great satisfaction in acknowledging this form of professional activity.

Registration

Preregistrants. Attendees who registered before July 20 may pick up badges, program kits, and special tickets at the Preregistration counters in the Grand Gallerie at the Fontainebleau Hilton. Service hours are as follows:

Thursday, August 12	1:00-8:00 p.m.
Friday, August 13	8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Saturday, August 14	7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Sunday, August 15	8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Monday, August 16	8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

Preregistrants who arrive on August 17 may pick up their meeting materials at the On-Site Registration Desk in the Grand Ballroom.

On-Site Registration. Those who missed the preregistration deadline will find the On-Site Registration area inside the Grand Ballroom at the Fontainebleau Hilton. Registration hours are as follows:

Thursday, August 12	1:00-5:00 p.m.
Friday, August 13	8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Saturday, August 14	7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

Monday, August 16	8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Tuesday, August 17	8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

Reminder: Access to all ASA services is restricted to meeting registrants. Badges are required for entry to the Exhibits, Employment Service, Child Care Service, and Paper Sales areas. Attendance at events which require fee payment (e.g., Biscayne Bay Evening Cruise, Didactic Seminars, Tours) is restricted to persons who have registered for the meeting.

Cancellations. Program participant registration fees are nonrefundable. 90% of fees for general registration, seminars, workshops, and tours will be refunded if written cancellation was received before July 13. All fees and deposits were nonrefundable after July 13, 1993.

ASA Information--Grand Gallerie

The ASA Information Desk is staffed with ASA Executive Office personnel who will be able to assist attendees who have questions about meeting events and activities. Information Desk hours are 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 12. Hours on Friday-Tuesday, August 13-17 correspond to the Registration hours shown above.

ASA Office--Imperial I

The on-site ASA Office will be staffed from Thursday-Tuesday, August 12-17, with ASA Executive Office personnel. Office hours are 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m. on Thursday-Friday and Sunday-Tuesday, August 12-13 and 15-17. Hours on Saturday, August 14, are 7:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m.

Cafe ASA

By popular demand, Cafe ASA returns to the Annual Meeting. Cafe ASA is a place to buy coffee, sodas, sandwiches, and light snacks, and a place to sit with friends and enjoy a quick "bite" with lively conversation. The Cafe will be located in the Grand Ballroom on Saturday-Monday, August 14-16. On Friday and Tuesday, August 13 and 17, a "street cafe" atmosphere will be created in the Grand Gallerie adjacent to the registration area. Both the fixed location and the "moveable feast" are central to meeting activities. Plan to meet friends, transact business, sociology watch, or just rest your feet at this eatery/greeter.

Child Care

The Fontainebleau Hilton offers a free child care program for children ages 5-13 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. each day in the Spa building at the resort. Attendees desiring to use this service must be registered guests of the hotel and call in advance to reserve space. Contact Wendy Johnson, Kids Korner, 535-3240.

ASA has made arrangements with Kiddie Korp to offer a full child care program from 8:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. each day for children below the age of five, for families not staying at the Fontainebleau, and for those who need child care during the 8:00-10:00 a.m. or 4:00-6:30 p.m. time periods when the Fontainebleau program is not open. This service will be available provided there is sufficient demand. Fees remain the same as in previous years: $25 pre-registration fee per child; $25 per day usage fee per child. Please check at ASA Information Desk for the room number of the ASA Child Care Suite.

Lunch and snacks are not provided with either service; however, parents may arrange to take their children out for lunch or order lunch through the hotel. Evening care must be arranged on an individual basis with Kiddie Korp personnel or local babysitting agencies. Children who were not preregistered for either service will be accepted only on a space-available basis. Parents/guardians using these services must be registrants for the Annual Meeting.

City and Restaurant Information—Grand Gallerie

The Greater Miami Convention and Visitors Bureau is providing information on local restaurants that are member of the Bureau, along with sample menus and assistance in making reservations, as well as brochures on attractions in the Greater Miami area. The City Information Desk will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Friday-Monday, August 13-16.

Editors' Booth—Grand Ballroom

This year the ASA is sponsoring a booth where prospective authors can meet with the editors of ASA journals and the Rose Monograph Series to discuss submission of articles or monographs. During exhibit hours, the editors' booth will be located in the exhibit area of the Grand Ballroom. On Friday, August 13, and Tuesday, August 17, the editors' booth will be located in the ASA Services area. The booth will be staffed at various times by ASA editors, deputy editors, and other staff. The booth will have available samples copies of ASA journals, submission guidelines and addresses, mission statements, and other information of interest to prospective authors. As of press time, the schedule for the editors' booth follows. If there are additions or changes to the published schedule, a revised schedule will be posted at the booth.

Friday, August 13:

9:00-11:00 a.m.—Paula England, Editor-Elect, American Sociological Review

11:00 a.m.-12:00 noon—Julia Wrigley, Editor, Sociology of Education

Saturday, August 14:

11:00 a.m.-12:00 noon—Edward Lawler, Editor, Social Psychology Quarterly

12:00 noon-1:00 p.m.—Dean Dorn, Editor, and Kathleen McKinney, Editor-Elect, Teaching Sociology

4:00-5:00 p.m.—Pamela Barnhouse Walters, Deputy Editor, Sociology of Education

Sunday, August 15:

9:00-10:00 a.m.—Satoshi Kanazawa, Editorial Assistant, American Sociological Review

11:00 a.m.-12:00 noon—Melissa Herbert, Editorial Assistant, American Sociological Review

Monday, August 16:

9:00-10:00 a.m.—Dean Dorn, Editor, and Kathleen McKinney, Editor-Elect, Teaching Sociology

10:00 a.m.-12:00 noon—Judith Blau, Editor, Rose Monograph Series

Tuesday, August 17:

9:00-10:00 a.m.—Dean Dorn, Editor, Teaching Sociology

Employment Service—Fleur de Lis

The 1993 Employment Service will be open at the Fontainebleau Hilton on Thursday, August 12, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m., and Friday-Monday, August 13-16, from 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. The service will not be open on Tuesday, August 17.

Anyone using this Service, whether as Candidate or Employer, must register for the Annual Meeting as well as with the Employment Service. Once registered, you will be issued a pass permitting your entrance to the Service any time it is open. No one will be admitted without a pass; no browsing by non-registered attendees is permitted.

Fees for use of the Employment Service are $75 for Employers, $30 for Candidates who are not members of ASA, and $15 for Candidates who are ASA members. All employer listings must be prepaid (a valid purchase order will be accepted); postmeeting billing is not available. Candidates must pay by the time they activate their files.

Facilities will be available for reviewing employment listings, exchanging messages, and initiating introductory interviews. Position listings supplied by preregistered employers will be available for viewing when the Service opens on Thursday afternoon, August 12. Listings supplied by employers who register on-site will be posted as the listings are received and processed.

Candidate profiles are not supplied to employers until the candidate files have been activated on-site. Since employers need some time to review the files, there will be a time lag between activation of a candidate file and the scheduling of interviews. Because of that processing/review time, those intending to make full use of the Service should register and activate their files/listings by 5:30 p.m. on Friday, August 13. No candidate files will be activated on the last day (Monday, August 16) of Employment Service operations.

Forms for listing positions (Employer Forms) and applications for individuals (Candidate Profile Forms) were printed in the Preliminary Program and the Employment Bulletin. Extra copies of these forms are available in the Employment Service Registration area for those unable to preregister.

During the Annual Meeting in Pittsburgh last year, 61 employers listed 95 openings, including 16 positions outside academia, and 354 candidates registered with the Service. Nearly 900 interviews were scheduled.

Exhibits—Grand Ballroom

The 1993 ASA Exhibits highlight the middle days of this year's Annual Meeting. Located in the Grand Ballroom at the Fontainebleau Hilton, ASA Exhibits will be open to meeting registrants from 9:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m. on Saturday-Monday, August 14-16.

Meeting attendees are encouraged to schedule several visits to the exhibit area so that ample time can be given to leisurely exploring the many offerings. Come browse through the latest sociological publications, learn about current computer hardware and software and chat with representatives of statistical and informational literature.

See the Directory of Exhibitors elsewhere in this Program for names and booth numbers of all exhibitors. Don't forget to look through the Program for special ads!

All persons wishing access to ASA Exhibits must be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting; badges are required for entrance into this area.

Locator File—Grand Gallerie

All attendees are invited to fill out a "locator card" when picking up their meeting registration packets. These cards will then be made available at the ASA information Desk during the meeting to help colleagues contact each other while in the Miami area. Message Exchange boxes are located near the Preregistration area in the Grand Gallerie, providing 24-hour message access for meeting attendees.

Media Office--Imperial IV

Media representatives are invited to stop by for registration packets and interview assistance. The Media Office will be open 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 12; 8:00 a.m.-5:30 a.m. on Friday-Monday, August 13-16; and 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 17.

Membership and Publications Center--Grand Ballroom

Information on ASA membership, sections, subscriptions, and publications will be provided in the Membership and Publications Center in the Grand Ballroom. The Center will be staffed by ASA Executive Office personnel and open during the same hours as ASA Registration.

Limited quantities of all ASA publications will be available for inspection and purchase at the display tables. Price lists and order forms may be used when inventory is sold out or attendees wish to have materials shipped rather than carrying copies with them.

Browse through the display tables to review current career publications, syllabi sets, sociological practice materials, recent journal issues, indexes, teaching resources, departmental guides and directories, minority fellowship application information, ethics code, section newsletters, and many other publications. Plan to take a copy of the latest catalogues home for further consideration!

Paper Sales--Jade Promenade

All session papers which were submitted to the Executive Office by July 1 will be available in the Paper Sales area beginning Thursday, August 12. Paper Sales service hours are the same as ASA Registration.

Check the list of "Available Papers" in your program packet for information on expected availability. Authors who indicated that they would bring copies with them to the Annual Meeting are urged to deliver them to Paper Sales as soon as possible upon arrival.

Meeting registrants may purchase papers for $3.00 each; these fees go toward covering shipping and service setup costs. Papers may be purchased as long as supplies last; orders for future delivery cannot be accepted. Authors must be contacted directly if copies of papers are not available in the Paper Sales Room nor accessible through the Sociological Abstracts Document Delivery Service. To facilitate communication with authors, the ASA Executive Office compiled a Roster of Registrants with mailing addresses which may be purchased either at the meeting or from the Executive Office after the meeting.

Copies of papers will not be available from ASA following the Annual Meeting. The Executive Office is not able to return unsold copies of papers to individual authors; however, authors may pick up any remaining copies of their own papers after 1:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 17.

Copies of some papers may remain at the end of the meeting. Any institution wishing to obtain some of these should contact the ASA Office during the meeting.

All persons wishing access to the Paper Sales area must be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting; badges are required for entrance into this area.

Quiet Spot--Conference Room 3

Attendees coping with illness or lack of stamina may use the small "quiet spot" to escape briefly from the noise and bustle of meeting activities. This space is being provided in response to concerns brought to the ASA Council by the Sociologists' AIDS Network and the Sociologists' Lesbian and Gay Caucus. Anyone needing immediate medical attention may contact the ASA Office and hotel personnel by picking up the nearest house phone.

Resources for Attendees with Special Needs--Grand Gallerie

The ASA Information Desk will coordinate resources during the meeting week for registrants with physical disabilities who are attending the Annual Meeting. Special services which were arranged in advance may be verified with Information Desk staff on your arrival to ensure that you receive the assistance you need.

Session Accessibility. The growth in the meeting program since Miami was selected as the meeting site has required ASA to use meeting space outside the Fontainebleau Hilton. While these adjacent hotels are in the process of complying with the Americans with Disabilities Act, most modifications will not be completed by the time the meeting starts. Temporary ramps will be installed where possible, but not all the meeting room entrances can be ramped. Attendees in wheelchairs are encouraged to provide information on their intended session attendance in advance to the ASA Office so that the hotels may be alerted to the specific time that assistance will be needed.

On-Site Services. Registrants who did not make advance arrangements are requested to contact staff in the ASA Office in Imperial I. Every reasonable effort will be made to assist registrants on-site. However, if you have a physical disability and need special services, equipment, or accommodations, and did not notify ASA in advance of your arrival at the meeting site, ASA may not be able to provide the proper services due to the limited availability of some equipment and services.

Section Information--Grand Ballroom

Information on 33 ASA Sections and one section-in-formation, including copies of 1993 section newsletters, is available in the Membership and Publications Center. Section representatives will staff a special table in the Center and will also be present at the Welcoming and Orientation Party on Friday, August 13, 6:30-8:00 p.m. in Fontainebleau A-B at the Hilton.

Tickets--Grand Ballroom

Registrants already enrolled for didactic seminars, the plenary luncheon, Miami tours, or the Biscayne Bay evening cruise should have received their tickets with their meeting packets. Event tickets are non-refundable and cancellations cannot be accepted. You may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

Tickets may still be available for some events. Please check at the Tickets Desk for up-to-date information.

90. Didactic Seminar. Network Analysis

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Ticket required for admission

Thomas Schott, University of Pittsburgh

The seminar teaches principles for analyzing a social system captured as a network among actors. The measured relations among the actors can be arranged in a matrix for input in a network analysis software program to detect groups such as cliques, to assess centrality of each actor in the system, and much more. The session will show how to prepare data for input, to use the software STRUCTURE and its manual, and to interpret outputs. This will enable novices to perform analyses. (The program and manual may be purchased at the session for $50; a copy may be ensured by e-mailing tschott@pittvms.bitnet or tschott@vm-s.cis.pitt.edu.)

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Ticket required for admission

Kazuo Yamaguchi, University of Chicago

The workshop introduces major methods and models for the analysis of event-history data based on hazard rate and related models. The three major groups of models covered in the workshop include (1) discrete-time logit models, (2) piecewise constant-rate models based on the maximum likelihood estimation, and (3) proportional hazards and related stratified models based on Cox's partial likelihood estimation. The use of software for the analysis and the interpretation of results as well as the characteristics of models are described for each of these three major groups of models. Other related topics such as the construction of data files, use of time-varying covariates, and models which control for unobserved heterogeneity are also described.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Monaco

Robert Davis, North Carolina A&T State University
Stephen Sharkey, Alverno College

This workshop is for those seeking to implement an assessment process in their courses and/or department. We will set context by discussing the national assessment movement, then define and illustrate two broad assessment approaches: (1) assessment as learning, which focuses on individual student development; and (2) aggregate level program assessment or evaluation. We will explore how these approaches complement each other and can address questions about undergraduate educational "quality" and "effectiveness" emerging at the institutional level from a state mandate or accreditation visit. We will share concrete examples of successful strategies and conduct exercises to help workshop participants develop assessment materials to bring back to their home campuses.

137. Didactic Seminar. Field Research: The Use of Stories and the Historical Past in Ethnographic Analysis

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Ticket required for admission

Allen Shelton, University of Georgia

Arthur Wilke, Auburn University

The ethnographic project is being rethought in the post-Geertz, post-Goffman period. Critics/practitioners such as Clifford and Marcus, Clough, Denzin, Rose, and Taussig have pushed for a new ethnographic text to shock the tangible into talking. Drawing on these sources and texts by Walter Benjamin and Deleuze and Guattari, this seminar examines the use of stories, histories, and poetics to construct an alternative ethnography. The focus will be on the reconstruction of an Old South parade and a concurrent protest that took place in Auburn, Alabama. A basic familiarity with traditional ethnographic procedures is the only prerequisite. Patricia Clough, Norman Denzin, Caroline Ellis, Kathryn Hausbeck, Joseph Kotarba, and Laurel Richardson will give brief presentations on topics within their areas of expertise and the seminar subject.

Ticket required for admission

Douglas Harper, University of South Florida

This seminar is intended for sociologists interested in bringing the visual dimension into their thinking, teaching, and research. Broadly speaking, this session will cover the applications of semiotics, documentary photography and photo elicitation to teaching, research, and publication. The seminar will cover such questions as: "How do we read society in the images we consume in daily life?", "How can we encourage students to explore sociological concepts through visual methods?", and "How can we construct texts with our subjects through the analysis of visual portrayals of their social worlds?" The seminar will introduce terms on a theoretical level but will concentrate on practical applications in teaching, research, and publication.

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

Ticket required for admission

Mary Margaret Fonow, The Ohio State University

Judith A. Cook, Thresholds National Research and Training Center and University of Chicago

This seminar will present an overview of recent developments in feminist epistemology and methodology with attention to the applicability of these approaches to a wide range of research topics in the study of gender. The co-facilitators will present exemplars from their own research on women with AIDS, women steelworkers and protest, lesbian panels in the classroom, women with severe mental illness, gender and grief, and the advisory role of feminists in government. Attention will be given to the relationship between the formulation of research questions and the selection of method, research bias, feminist ethics, and the use and misuse of "experience" in feminist research projects.

327. Teaching Workshop. Teaching Sociology Off Campus

Fontainebleau Hilton, Lorraine

- Vinetta Witt*, Midlands Technical College
- This workshop deals with issues relating to the teaching of sociology in "non-traditional" settings--i.e., in areas and for students other than the traditional community college and university environments. These settings include diverse sites such as correctional facilities and military bases as well as a variety of internship programs designed to provide opportunities for "real-life" learning and application of sociological principles. The focus of this workshop will be upon the similarities and differences between these and more traditional teaching experiences, including specific ways of maximizing teaching effectiveness in off-campus settings.

SESSION 110. SPECIAL POSTER SESSION RESEARCH FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Presider: Felice J. Levine, American Sociological Association
Saturday, August 14, 1:30-4:30 p.m.
Fontainebleau Hilton, Grand Ballroom

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

1. Agency for Health Care Policy and Research (AHCPR)

Presenter: John Fleishman, Service Fellow, Suite 502, Executive Office Center, 2101 East Jefferson Street, Rockville, MD 20852; (301) 227-8354

AHCPR serves as the Public Health Service's research arm and is responsible for studies on medical effectiveness, patient outcomes, health care delivery and costs, and technology assessment. Extramural research is supported on such issues as: health survey methods; measurement of functional status; measurement of outcomes of alternative treatments in common use; primary care; changing provider behavior; quality of care assessment and assurance; methods of dissemination of research findings and practice guidelines; and health care for rural and disadvantaged populations.

DHHS National Institutes of Health (NIH)

2. National Institute of Child Health & Human Development (NICHD), Demographic and Behavioral Sciences Branch

Presenter: Nancy Moss, Expert Sociologist, Room 8B13, 6100 Executive Blvd., Bethesda, MD 20892; (301) 496-1174

NICHD is a major source of NIH funds for the social and behavioral sciences. NICHD funds research related to factors influencing human development throughout the lifespan. These efforts concern: sociodemographic factors in mortality (including infant mortality); family and household structure; immigration; child care; residential segregation; labor markets; fertility; and adolescent pregnancy. The institute has three extramural programs; the Center for Population Research funds demographic and Sociological Research and the Center for Research on Mothers and Children funds developmental and behavioral maternal and child health research. A new program was added in 1991, the National Center for Medical Rehabilitation Research, which supports research on behavioral aspects of disability.

3. Division of Research Grants

Presenter: Bob Weller, Scientific Review Administrator, Building AW, Room 307, 5333 Westbard Avenue, Bethesda, MD 20892; (301) 594-7340

NIH study sections provide the critical first review and evaluation of research grant applications. This poster session will explain the steps of the NIH review process and procedures, review study section activities, and examine criteria for writing a successful proposal. The division for research grants in a service division of NIH that provides peer review for the various institutes and centers which comprise NIH.

4. Behavioral and Social Research, National Institute on Aging (BSR/NIA)

Presenter: Ronald P. Abeles, Acting Associate Director, Gateway Bldg., 2C234, 7201 Wisconsin Avenue, Bethesda, MD 20892;

(301) 496-3136

BSR/NIA supports a wide variety of qualitative and quantitative sociological research and training in regard to aging processes, the relationship between the aging population and social institutions, and the impact on society of the populations changing age composition.

5. National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA), Prevention Research Branch

Presenter: Susan Martin, Health Scientist Administrator, Room 13-C23 Parklawn Building, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857; (301) 443-1677

NIAAA supports basic and applied research related to the causes, consequences, treatment, and prevention of alcohol-related problems. Most social science research is funded through the Division of Clinical and Prevention Research and the Division of Biometry and Epidemiology. NIAAA also supports several alcohol research centers and an intramural research program. Research priorities include sociocultural and environmental determinants of drinking; safety, trauma, and alcohol-related performance; economic and socioeconomic issues in the prevention and treatment of alcohol problems; and the prevention of alcohol-related problems in children, adolescents, and other at-risk populations.

6. National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), Division of Epidemiology and Prevention Research,

Presenter: Richard Clayton, Professor of Sociology and Director for Prevention Research, NIDA National Advisory Council Member, CoPrevention Research Branch, Rockwell II, Suite 615, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857

The National Institute on Drug Abuse, one of the 16 NIH Institutes, supports a wide range of research and training, and is a prominent source of funding in support of research on drug abuse, dependence, and addiction. Sociologists and other social scientists are actively involved in the research and training programs of many NIDA units, especially the Prevention Branch of the Division of Epidemiology and Prevention Research. NIDA prevention initiatives focus on high-risk groups such as runaways, school dropouts, adolescents showing psychiatric disturbance, unmarried pregnant women and parenting youth, juvenile delinquents, and women and men in the sex trade. NIDA research also includes examining the relationship between drug use and AIDS, tuberculosis, and other medical problems. Please contact Dr. William Bukoski for further information at (301-443-1514)

7. National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH)

Presenter: Ann A. Hohmann, Chief, Methods Development Programs, Services Research Branch, Division of Epidemiology and Services Research, NIMH, 5600 Fishers Lane, Room 10C-06, Rockville, MD 20857; (301) 443-4045

NIMH supports and conducts research and research training in the following areas: the etiology, genetics, prevention, treatment, and clinical course of mental disorders; clinical mental health services and service systems research; psychiatric epidemiology; assessment and classification of mental disorders; violence and traumatic stress; law and mental health; and health and behavior.

DHHS Center for Disease Control and Prevention
8. National Center for Health Statistics

Presenter: Audrey Burwell, Grants Coordinator, Room 1100, Presidential Building, 6525 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782; (301) 436-7062

NCHS, the Federal Government's principal vital and health statistics agency, maintains data systems covering the full spectrum of concerns in the health field from birth to death, including overall health status, lifestyle and exposure to unhealthy influences, the onset and diagnosis of illness and disability, and the use of health care. Provisions of the Disadvantaged Minority Health Improvement Act mandates NCHS to improve the availability of racial and ethnic health data from national vital statistic and surveys and establish a grants program to support the understanding of health of the Nation's minority population and subpopulations.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

9. Office of Research (OR)

Presenter: Joseph Conaty, Acting Director, Room 610 Capitol Place, 555 New Jersey Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20208; (202) 219-2239

Through support of basic and applied research, evaluations, and analyses, the Office of Research serves parents, teachers and school administrators, and policymakers at local, state, and federal levels. Its four divisions are Learning and Instruction, Schools and School Professionals, Higher Education and Adult Learning, and Education and Society. A major function of the Office of Research is to fund and coordinate research carried out by 20 national educational research and development centers based in universities across the country. In addition, OR supports field-initiated research projects and intramural research. Of particular interest is the Field-Initiated Studies that encourages individuals and groups to pursue research clearly relevant to national education concerns and issues.

10. School Improvement Program (SIP), Office of Elementary & Secondary Education

Presenter: Allen J. King, Director, Division of Drug Free Schools & Communities Program, Room 2123, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-6439; (202) 401-2393

SIP supports elementary and secondary education programs in the following areas: foreign language instruction; school personnel training and counselor training in drug and alcohol abuse education and prevention; emergency grants to local districts that demonstrate a significant drug and alcohol abuse by students; the development and operation of magnet schools that are part of an approved desegregation plan; school dropout prevention; law-related education; women's educational equity; and the Christa McAuliffe Fellowship Program. Except for the Crista McAuliffe program, awardees are State education agencies, local education agencies, and/or institutions of higher education.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

11. Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences

Presenter: William Sims Bainbridge, Director, Sociology Program, 1800 G Street NW, Room 336, Washington, DC 20550; (202) 357-7802

The Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences is the single most identifiable federal source of support for basic research in the social sciences. Social science research is primarily supported in the Division of Social, Behavioral and Economic Research where sociology is located. The Division consists of five program clusters: Anthropological and Geographic Sciences; Cognitive, Psychological and Language Sciences; Economic, Decision and Management Sciences; Social and Political Sciences (including Sociology); and Science, Technology and Society. It supports disciplinary and multidisciplinary research, data collection, and measurement and methodological research. Its goal is to develop basic scientific knowledge of social, behavioral and economic systems, organizations and institutions, and human interaction and decision making. SBER also provides support for research conferences, doctoral dissertation research, group international travel, and data resource development.

12. Directorate for Education and Human Resources

Presenter: Larry Suter, Director, Office of Studies and Assessment, 1800 G Street, NW, Room 336, Washington, DC 20550; (202) 357-7425

The Indicators Program seeks statistical information about the health of the nation's science, mathematics, engineering, and technology (SME) education. It measures educational achievements of the nation's education system. This year, it will produce a biennial indicators report on national and international trends. Research funded through this program assesses: SME achievement trends in the U.S. and other nations at pre-college and higher levels; student participation trends in both pre-college and higher SME education; educational quality, such as teacher qualifications, instructional time, course content, and learning methods; and measurements of both conceptual knowledge and problem-solving skills.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

13. Division of Fellowships and Seminars

Presenter: Joel Schwartz, Humanities Administrator, 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Room 316, Washington, DC 20506; (202) 606-8463

The fellowship and seminar programs of the National Endowment for the Humanities support advanced study and research undertaken by scholars at colleges and university and by independent scholars. The Endowment funds projects in the social sciences that are historical or philosophical in approach and those focusing on questions of interpretation or criticism.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

14. U.S. Census Bureau

Presenter: Manuel de la Puente, Sociologist, Washington Plaza Building, Room 433, Washington, DC 20233; (301) 763-1447

The Census Bureau funds research through contracts with social research firms and is a key source of statistical data for social science research. Additionally, it provides opportunities for research within the Census Bureau through its ASA/NSF/Census Research Fellow Program. Other opportunities for research include Intergovernmental Personnel Assignments, commonly referred to as IPAs.

NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF JUSTICE (NIJ)

15. Criminal Justice Research and Evaluation

Presenter: Christeen Visher, National Institute of Justice, 633 Indiana Ave., NW, Washington, DC 20531; (202) 307-0694

NIJ supports research, development, evaluation, and dissemination programs designed to improve the criminal justice system. Priority is given to policy-relevant research that can yield approaches and information for state and local agencies use in preventing and reducing crime. NIJ's Program Plan is published annually and solicits proposals in six broad areas--Violence, Drug-related Crimes, Crime Prevention, Consequences of Crime, Effectiveness of System Responses, and Emerging Crime Patterns-- with specific priorities established in each area. In addition, support is available through visiting fellowships, graduate research fellowships, and small awards for secondary data analysis. Information and announcements can be obtained from the National Criminal Justice Reference Service. Call 1-800 851-33420 to become a registered user and receive free documents.

COUNCIL FOR INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE OF SCHOLARS

16. Fulbright Senior Scholar Program and the American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS)

Presenter: Steve Blodgett, Director of Recruitment and Liaison, 3007 Tilden Street, NW, Suite 5M, Washington, DC 20008-3009

Fulbright grants are available for advanced research or university lecturing abroad in nearly 135 countries. The deadline for the 1994-95 competition was August 1, 1993, but applications are still being accepted for select Fulbright assignments in certain parts of the world. Ph.D. is required for most awards. ACLU supports research in the humanities and humanistic aspects of the social sciences through awards to individual scholars. Several programs concern encouraging social science and humanistic research on specific countries or regions of the world.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

17. Cooperative State Research Service (CSRS)

Presenter: Gerald Klonglan, Professor, Iowa State University, C/O Richard Stuby, 5-A Administration Building, 14th Street and Independence Avenue SW, Washington, DC 20250

CSRS supports research in the food and agricultural sciences. It includes studies in agricultural economics and rural sociology. Some CSRS funds are awarded directly to state land-grant institutions, and investigators must be affiliated with these institutions to receive funding. Competitive research grant funds are open to proposals from all sources. For further information about the program please contact Richard Stuby, Director, (202) 401-4425.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

18. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS)

Presenter: Polly Phipps, Social Science Research Analyst, Room 4915, 2 Massachusetts Avenue, NE, Washington, DC 20212; (202) 606-7371

The BLS collects and publishes statistics on the labor force, prices, compensation and working conditions, productivity and technology, and economic growth and employment projections. It also funds data collection for the National Longitudinal Survey of Labor Market Experiences, as well as research projects using that data collection. Other activities include surveys to help implement the Federal Employees Pay Comparability Act and revision of the Current Population Survey. In cooperation with the National Science Foundation and the American Statistical Association, BLS sponsors a Senior Research Fellow and Associate Program.

19. COUNCIL OF PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS ON FEDERAL STATISTICS (COPAFS)

Presenter: Edward J. Spar, Executive Director, 1429 Duke Street, Suite 402, Alexandria, VA 22314; (703) 836-0404

COPAFS major role is to act as an advocate for the development and dissemination of high-quality federal statistics. Through COPAFS, members have an opportunity to review and have an impact on issues including the timeliness, quality, confidentiality, and relevance. One of the major goals is to make members of the federal statistical agencies aware of the needs of data users. COPAFS identifies areas where improvements are needed in federal statistical program and suggests strategies to bring about these improvements.

20. CONSORTIUM OF SOCIAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATIONS (COSSA)

Presenter: Howard Silver, Executive Director, 1522 K Street, NW, Suite 836, Washington, DC 20005; (202) 842-3525

The Consortium of Social Science Associations is an advocacy organization. Supported by more than 90 professional societies and academic and research institutions, COSSA acts as a bridge between researchers and policymakers representing the needs and interests of social and behavioral scientists; educating federal officials about social and behavioral science; informing the science community about relevant federal policies; and cooperating with other science and education groups in pursuit of common goals.

SOCIOLOGY IN THE 90s

NEW FOR 1994!

Bryjak & Soroka
SOCIOLOGY: Cultural Diversity
in a Changing World, Second Edition

Comprised of 14 chapters covering core topics, this new full-color edition is a balanced, thorough, and lively presentation that captures student interest in their own society as well as that of others. The extensive use of examples in every chapter, as well as boxed inserts and new Cable News Network Video segments (connected to the text material) offer a strong multicultural component.

Eitzen & Baca Zinn
SOCIAL PROBLEMS, Sixth Edition

The new edition of this very successful textbook is improved by its more deliberate focus on four themes: the structural sources of social problems; the role of the U.S. in global social problems; the centrality of race, class, and gender as sources of division, inequality, and injustice; and the critical examination of society.

Eshleman
THE FAMILY: An Introduction,
Seventh Edition

As the most readable and comprehensive survey text available for family courses, THE FAMILY provides an objective description and analysis of contemporary U.S. families within a world perspective. In its new edition, it offers a broad, cross-cultural perspective with examples throughout and maintains the balanced eclectic theoretical orientation of previous editions.

ECUMENE

A JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENT • CULTURE • MEANING

JOINT EDITORS:

Denis Cosgrove,
Department of Geography,
Loughborough University of Technology, UK and
James Duncan,
Department of Geography,
Syracuse University, USA

Edward Arnold
Hodder & Stoughton Publishers

ECUMENE is a new journal for the humanities, cultural studies and social sciences. It publishes scholarly research and informed commentaries on various aspects of the cultural appropriation of nature, landscape and the environment. It welcomes contributions from the growing numbers of scholars and practitioners in the arts, humanities and environmental sciences who are interested in the ways that people imagine, interpret and transform their physical and social worlds.

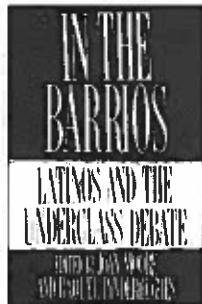

ECUMENE means the habitable earth, the theatre of human life. The growing awareness of the complexity of human relations on, and with, the earth has transformed and enriched current research agendas in the general area of environment, culture and meaning. ECUMENE particularly welcomes contributions on culture and landscape, environmentalism, global and local meanings and geographical knowledges.

ECUMENE will be published four times a year. The first issue will be available in October 1993. Approx 288 pages per volume (384 per issue). ISSN 0967-4608. Individual subscription: £33 (EC and UK) £40 (Rest of World) US$65 (USA) Institutional subscription: £85 (EC and UK) £95 (Rest of World) US$165 (USA)

Free sample copies will be available for inspection at the end of 1993.

Covering Our Changing Society

IN THE BARRIOS: Latinos and the Underclass Debate

JOAN MOORE and RAQUEL PINDERHUGHES, editors

The first major assessment of inner-city Latino communities in the United States, In the Barrios responds directly to current debates on the origins of the "underclass" and depicts the cultural, demographic, and historical forces that have shaped poor Latino neighborhoods in New York, Los Angeles, Miami, Houston, Chicago, Albuquerque, Laredo, and Tucson.

"Each one of the chapters makes singular contributions that should enable us to move beyond sterile academic debates about the underclass and towards a richer understanding of what it means to be poor in the United States."

— M. Patricia Fernández Kelly, The Johns Hopkins University.

THEORIES OF DEVIANCE, Fourth Edition

Edited by Stuart Traub and Craig Little, State University of New York, Cortland

THEORIES OF DEVIANCE is a collection of theoretical statements from diverse sociological perspectives, tracing the development of the sociology of deviance from 19th century functionalism to contemporary political economic explanations.

The streamlined fourth edition includes expanded chapter introductions. The control theory chapter now covers family violence, and the final chapter contains new selections not reprinted previously.

UNDERSTANDING POPULATION CHANGE

Charles B. Nam, Florida State University

This text studies population change and its determinants and consequences in the United States, the world, and its regions. Written for undergraduate (or first-year graduate level) courses in the sociology of population, the text employs jargon-free language and numerous examples. Its comprehensive coverage of contemporary and historical perspectives is based on the author's thorough survey of the most up-to-date books and articles in the field.

November 1993 c. 600 pages hardbound

AMERICAN ETHNICITY, Second Edition

Joseph Hraba, Iowa State University

This race and ethnic relations text examines the specific histories of American ethnic groups within the context of the nation's economic and labor history and, by emphasizing the complementarity of social and psychological theories, interprets ethnic change in a changing American society. The second edition reflects new research and changing demographics. Instructor's Manual available.

January 1994 c. 470 pages hardbound

RELIGION IN CONTEMPORARY SOCIETY, Third Edition

By H. Paul Chalfant, Robert E. Beckley, C. Eddie Palmer

A thoroughly revised edition of this standard text. There is a renewed focus on contemporary trends in religious life in the U.S. (and the western world) backed by our general focus on the relation of history to the current situation. Included is an analysis of the widened profile of religious groups in the U.S. and emphasis on the importance of both resurgent fundamentalism and the renaissance of New Religious Movements as a significant factor in the mosaic of our religious life.

STATISTICS FOR SOCIAL DATA ANALYSIS, Third Edition

George Bohrnstedt, American Institutes for Research
David Knoke, University of Minnesota

This widely adopted social statistics text takes students through inferential testing to multivariate methods for analyzing social data. Students are encouraged to learn-by-doing with computer problem sets. The third edition includes new chapters on nonlinear and logistic regression, log-linear analysis, and structural equation models.

SOCIOLOGY IN EVERYDAY LIFE, Second Edition

David A. Karp, Boston College

William C. Yoels, University of Alabama, Birmingham

This engaging introductory textbook uses symbolic interaction to examine the interplay between the micro and macro features of daily life. Examples are drawn from the university setting. The second edition includes a new chapter on health and illness. Test Booklet available.

The Legacy of Empire
Economic Decline and Class
Polarization in the United States
By Berch Berberoglu

1993 Distinguished Scholarship Award of the Marxist Section of the American Sociological Association

This award-winning volume argues that the internalization of U.S. capital via worldwide expansion of transnational monopolies has led to the decline of our domestic economy—bringing about class polarization between labor and capital. An incisive volume, it untangles the complex web of social-economic connections in the relations of production, distribution, and exchange.

Finding New Paths to Understanding...

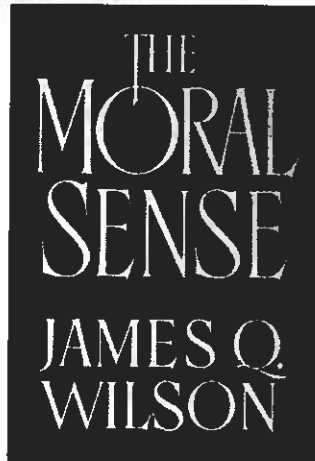

"Teaching introductory sociology is not about old battles between academic perspectives. It's about giving students tools to think, to be better citizens, to work effectively in their careers."

THE MORAL SENSE

James Q. Wilson,
*University of California,
Los Angeles*

“Wilson argues that the daily discourse of ordinary people is permeated with moral references and, further, that these concerns derive from a ‘moral nature’ that is part of our humanity. We are born neither ‘wicked’ nor ‘good,’ Wilson argues. Rather we are born social, and this is what gives decency a fighting chance. This is a brave book, certain to provoke debate.”

—Jean Bethke Elstain,
Vanderbilt University

TELL THEM WHO I AM

The Lives of Homeless Women
Elliot Liebow,
Catholic University

“A wise and gentle book, terribly poignant and poetic. It is certainly one of the very best things ever written about homeless people in this nation, but I would have expected no less from Elliot Liebow. Really, some of this writing brings one to tears. A beautiful work.”

—Jonathan Kozol, author of
Savage Inequalities and Rachel and Her Children: Homeless Families in America

1993 0-02-919095-9 $24.95

AMERICAN LIVES

Looking Back at the Children of the Great Depression

John A. Clausen,
University of California, Berkeley

“This book changes the basic social science view of the life course. It is magnificent. Clausen gets beyond ‘stages’ theory to show that the character structure that makes a successful life tends to be present at least by adolescence. This will be a landmark book.”

—Paul Bohannon, University of Southern California

DOWN TO EARTH SOCIOLOGY

Introductory Readings
Seventh Edition

James M. Henslin,
*University of Southern Illinois,
Edwardsville*

Now in its seventh edition, this classic text has been updated with twenty percent important new material on topics relevant to the study of sociology today. Forty-four articles examine such diverse topics as self-fulfilling stereotypes, the attitudes of rapists, and what we really learn in kindergarten. Divided into nine sections, the seventh edition also has increased its coverage of social inequality, with a new article by Jonathan Kozol on inequalities in education, and an article on how football reproduces inequalities of gender, race and class. An Instructor's Manual, with a computerized test bank, is also available.

MEMBERS OF THE CLUB

The Coming of Age of Executive Women

Dawn-Marie Driscoll and Carol R. Goldberg

Drawing on revealing interviews with many of America's leading women business executives, the authors find that the well-publicized “glass ceiling” is, in fact, a myth. As these executives demonstrate, if a woman knows the rules she can reach the top. This book shows how these executives have managed to move themselves and other women into the forefront of the business world. The authors describe the real versus purported obstacles women face in their careers, and provide the often unwritten rules of the game that will enable them to move up the corporate ladder.

UNFAITHFUL ANGELS

How Social Work Has Abandoned its Mission

Harry Specht,
University of California, Berkeley
and Mark E. Courtney,
University of Wisconsin

In this provocative examination of the fall of social work from its original mission to aid and serve the underprivileged, the authors show how a national faith in individualistic solutions to social problems led even their special guardians, social workers, to abandon the poor. Currently, a large proportion of all certified social workers leave the social services to practice psychotherapy on a private basis. This exodus vastly wastes public funds, the authors argue, as armies of social workers trained in public institutions end up not serving the populations that need them most. The authors conclude by proposing an innovative cost-effective, community-based system of social care for the twenty-first century.

LEARNING FROM STRANGERS

Robert S. Weiss,
University of Massachusetts

Drawing on Weiss' thirty years of research and teaching, this is the definitive work on qualitative research interviewing. Weiss gives examples of successful and not so successful interviews, enhanced by a sidebar of running commentary on how the interaction between interviewer and respondent inhibits, or promotes this essential alliance. This is a textbook, a reference guide, and a handbook for fieldwork useful to anyone who uses qualitative research interviews to gather data.

BEFORE THE SHOOTING BEGINS The Rise of Irreconcilable Differences in American Public Life

James Davison Hunter,
*University of Virginia,
Charlottesville*

At the very center of cultural conflict today are a host of public issues—abortion, homosexuality, family values—that are as fiercely contested today as was the debate over slavery that caused the Civil War. Hunter asks, "is there no way we can find a working agreement on the common good in a public culture as fractured as ours?" By analyzing special interest groups, the views of ordinary Americans, and our civil institutions, Hunter shows how we might achieve a renewed democracy, one that will allow for genuine debate and a reasoned acceptance of differences.

MEXICAN AMERICANS The Ambivalent Minority

Peter Skerry,
*University of California,
Los Angeles*

"Demonstrates with great intelligence just how real and difficult issues of ethnicity remain in America. And for Mexican-Americans in particular. This book will be an important contribution to a critical national concern."

HEALTH REFORM

What Happened and
What Needs to Happen

Eli Ginsberg,
Columbia University

With our health care system on the threshold of dramatic change, Eli Ginsberg, dean of health care analysts, pierces the underlying causes of the current crisis and identifies the inevitable sacrifices ahead if we are to pay for new programs. Ginsberg also examines the policy options that the Clinton Administration must choose from to preserve the strengths of the present delivery system at a time when fewer dollars will be available.

THINKING ABOUT OUR KIDS

An Agenda for American Education

Harold Howe II,
Harvard University

Avoiding the current emphasis on standardized test scores, as well as many of the quick-fix solutions of the eighties, Howe argues for new approaches to financing American schools, more attention to changing classroom routines, and major emphasis in schools on building an understanding of America's social and cultural diversity. In particular, Howe argues for an educational system that fosters a better understanding of, and respect for, the many races and cultures that make up our society.

THE CORPORATE CLOSET

The Professional Lives of Gay Men in America

James D. Woods with
Jay H. Lucas

Drawing on hundreds of interviews, Woods explores the professional lives of gay men, and the various strategies they have developed for managing sexual identity at work. Whether they disguise their sexuality, reveal it, or try to avoid the subject altogether, each choice has profound implications. Woods' fascinating inquiry explores the dynamics of sexuality in professional life, and the way it shapes our own self-definitions, values, and most deeply-held ideas about work.

SHARING THE JOURNEY

Support Groups and America's
New Quest for Community

Robert Wuthnow,
Princeton University

Millions of Americans are flocking to support groups of all kinds—from AA to Abuse Prevention to prayer fellowships. Why, and with what consequences? Drawing on his landmark study of more than one thousand small groups, Wuthnow brilliantly demonstrates that the warmth and security small groups provide have become part of what now holds our society together. But they also pose significant dangers, ranging from an unhealthy self-absorption to a trivialized sense of what is sacred.

ABOVE THE LAW Police and the Excessive Use of Force

Jerome H. Skolnick,
University of California, Berkeley
and James J. Fyfe,
American University

"Will take its place as the modern classic on the complexities of policing. Skolnick and Fyfe provide expertise, scholarship, and experience that will help the public and cops understand what the police actually do, and what they can reasonably be expected to do."

RETHINKING AIDS The Tragic Cost of Premature Consensus

Robert Root-Bernstein,
Michigan State University

"As a gay man with AIDS, I found it painful to read the sections documenting the irrefutably immunosuppressive consequences of the fabled 'fastlane' lifestyle I lived, but sometimes the truth hurts. I urge every gay man—indeed, everyone who cares about AIDS—to read this book with an open mind. Here is the Clinton Administration's AIDS agenda! In my opinion, this is the most important AIDS book—ever. It will save lives."

If you've ever mused over the sociological significance of Madonna's underwear-outerwear dilemma, the deconstruction of a Big Mac, or the Zeitgeist of MTV, we have a suggestion to make: click on the next button.

At sa, inc. we chronicle the times without the help of talking heads, astrologers, or pundits. While there is no shortage of information on important matters, there is one reliable source for the coverage of sociological phenomena.

For the past 42 years, sa, inc. has been an industry leader in the documenting and tracking of theoretical and applied sociological research.

Our databases, sociological abstracts (sa) and Social Planning/Policy & Development Abstracts (SOPODA), have consistently provided informative abstracts and precise indexing of books, conference proceedings, and journal articles culled from over 1,900 of the most influential serials published throughout the world. Also, enhanced bibliographic citations for relevant dissertations and book reviews are included.

Our eclectic classification system reflects the complexity of sociology and the policy sciences, encompassing both broad and highly specialized fields.

sa and SOPODA are available in three convenient media designed to complement your research requirements and fit your budget—print, online, and compact disc.

Find out for yourself why sa and SOPODA continue to be the databases of choice for authoritative coverage of sociology and related social sciences.

CONTROVERSIAL SCIENCE

From Content to Contention
Thomas Brante, Steve Fuller, and William Lynch, editors

This book represents emerging alternative perspectives to the "constructivist" orthodoxy that currently dominates the field of science and technology studies. Various contributions from distinguished Americans and Europeans in the field, provide arguments and evidence that it is not enough simply to say that science is "socially situated." Controversial Science focuses on important political, ethical, and broadly normative considerations that have yet to be given their due, but which point to a more realistic and critical perspective on science policy.

TECHNOCRACY AT WORK

Beverly H. Burriss

"The treatment of the topic is well done."

— James L. Price, University of Iowa

Technocracy, loosely defined, is "rule by experts." This book focuses on the organizational dimensions and aspects of technocracy. It analyzes the social and political implications of technocracy, in both particular work organizations as well as the world-wide technocratic system, so as to inform future democratic debate.

INTERPRETATION AND EXPLANATION IN THE HUMAN SCIENCES

David K. Henderson

"This book is the first of which I know to attempt a comprehensive assessment of Davidson's philosophy for key issues in the philosophy of social science. No other work, as far as I am aware, offers an analysis of recent work on explanation matching the breadth and depth of Henderson's." — Paul A. Roth, University of Missouri, St. Louis

ORDINARY PEOPLE AND EXTRAORDINARY EVIL

A Report on the Beguillings of Evil
Fred E. Katz

"I felt privileged to read this book. It is provocative. It offers stimulating insights, and it stimulates thoughts about the next research steps. The topic is very significant, important in itself, important (I think) to Holocaust studies, the sociology of everyday life, and perhaps to many areas that the book touches on (the sociology of organizations, applied ethics, family sociology, and others)." — Paul C. Rosenblatt, University of Minnesota, St. Paul

LITTLE BIG MEN

Bodybuilding Subculture and Gender Construction

Alan M. Klein

"Alan Klein's splendid ethnography is a vivid description of the bodybuilding cult, but is far more as well. It gives us important lessons about masculinity and men's bodies, about tangles of identity and sexuality, and—above all—about the contradictory character of gender in the contemporary world. Fascinating reading and a notable contribution to knowledge." — Bob Connell, University of California, Santa Cruz

GENDER, TIME, AND REDUCED WORK

ONE MILLION OF THE BEST MINDS IN AMERICA HAVE ALREADY CHOSEN THE BEST RETIREMENT PROGRAM. TIAA-CREF.

TIAA-CREF is building a sound financial future for more than 1.3 million people in the education and research communities. And over 250,000 retirees are now enjoying the benefits of their TIAA-CREF annuities.

SOLID PERFORMANCE AND TIMELY INNOVATION.

Whether you are just starting your career or nearing retirement, we can help you prepare for the future. Since 1918, we've been dedicated to making sure that people in education and research can count on a comfortable retirement. We pioneered the portable pension and we invented the variable annuity, innovations that have made us the retirement system against which others are measured.

At TIAA-CREF, we believe that steady incremental growth over the long term is the best way to build retirement income. This investment philosophy has worked well for the last 75 years, making us the largest pension system in the country, with over $112 billion in assets.

SECURITY, GROWTH AND DIVERSITY.

The keys to sound retirement investing are security, growth and diversity. Security, so the resources are sure to be there when it's time to retire. Growth, so you'll have the income you need for the kind of retirement you want. And diversity, to help protect you against volatility and to let you benefit from the strengths of several types of investments.

TIAA's traditional annuity provides guaranteed principal and interest. It also gives you the opportunity for growth through dividends—which we've declared every year for the last 44 years.

Because of its stability, sound investments, claims-paying ability, and overall financial strength, TIAA has received the highest possible ratings from all four of the industry's leading independent rating agencies.*

With CREF's variable annuity you can choose from five accounts, all managed by experts who understand the long-term strategy essential to sound retirement planning. CREF accounts invest in stocks, bonds, money markets or a combination of these investments. They are widely diversified to reduce risk and to allow you to benefit from the strengths of different financial markets. While returns will fluctuate, the CREF variable annuity has the potential for higher returns over time.

THE FIRST CHOICE IN EDUCATION AND RESEARCH.

Like the institutions that we serve, we are a nonprofit organization. Our outstanding range of services, flexible retirement and tax-deferred annuity plans, and diverse portfolio of investments are committed to one thing only—helping you build a secure and comfortable future.

That single-minded dedication is what sets TIAA-CREF apart from the other companies. It's also why over one million of the best minds in America have chosen TIAA-CREF

For members of the education and research community.

Ensuring the future
for those who shape it.™

*A++ (Superior) from A.M. Best Co., A/A from Duff & Phelps Credit Rating Co., Aaa from Moody's Investors Service, and A/A from Standard & Poor's. These ratings do not apply to CREF.

Not all accounts are available under the basic retirement plans at all institutions. They are, however, all available for TIAA-CREF Supplemental Retirement Annuities. CREF certificates are distributed by TIAA-CREF Individual and Institutional Services.

The Healer's Tale Transforming Medicine and Culture

Sharon R. Kaufman

"Sharon Kaufman has provided a rare treat—the chance to know the best, the very best physicians that medicine has produced since the 1930s. There are always great practitioners, but for the last generation everybody has been strangled by scientism or economics; the moral force of these doctors has been lost. They exist for most of us now only in her words and in nothing else in the world. For this we are in her debt."

Society in Focus

Have you ever been affected by what you've seen on T.V. or read in the paper? Then you know the impact the media can have. It wins presidential elections. It mobilizes military action. It shapes our views about the world, and about ourselves. The media is a dominant presence in our daily lives, and as Thompson/Hickey's cutting-edge text, Society in Focus demonstrates, it is also a valuable resource for teaching sociological concepts. This innovative introduction to sociology subjects social issues and controversies to a critical examination, and shows how their meanings may change with different sociological perspectives. Photo essays and accompanying lecture-launching videos reinforce the media theme.

INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY

Anthony Giddens

Cambridge University and University of California, Santa Barbara

"This text contains all the 'essentials' for a firm grounding in sociology."

—Larry Lake, San Diego State University

"Does a wonderful job of linking sociological thought to its philosophical foundations, clearly and without jargon."

—Cheryl T. Gilkes, Colby College

"Giddens's book offers the most thorough introduction to the discipline yet in print."

—Colin Ridgewell, University College of the Fraser Valley

WAC Stats

The Facts About Women

Women's Action Coalition

A compendium of contemporary facts and figures about the status of women throughout the world. Divided into categories, WAC Stats reveals startling information about the relative status of health, wealth, and power among men and women.

"WAC Stats, with its cornucopia of statistics on contemporary women's conditions, provides the actual firepower women need to challenge our still deeply unequal status."

—Susan Faludi

"What a wonderful compendium of verbal karate this book is! Read it, memorize it, carry it around with you, brandish it over your head."

—Robin Morgan

Family Matters

Readings on Family Lives and the Law

edited by Martha Minow

"Family Matters challenges the reader to see families as they truly are—complex, varied, and defiant of rigid legal frameworks. Its sensitive and captivating vision of real life and relationships is essential for serious study of family law today."

—Suzanne Goldberg,
Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund

Family Matters provides depth to the discussion with an array of readings about American families today. The text uses scholarly articles, short stories, personal recollections, and poems to provide a portrait of family relationships as they exist in private, and as they interact with public law and regulation.

Social Stratification in the United States

Stephen J. Rose

Updated and revised to reflect the latest census surveys, Stephen Rose's classic teaching tool is now available in a new edition. The wall poster and accompanying booklet present the basic facts of the American economy, offering a revealing picture of contemporary life in this country.

Featuring one thousand color-coded figures, the poster represents the complete American population, bringing together data on income, wealth, race, marital status, and occupation to provide an easily accessible portrait of the U.S. social structure.

"It not only arrays a huge amount of information, but tells hundreds of human stories in vivid and arresting ways. The poster also encourages instructors to draw up their own assignments, which ask students to pore over the figures and create their own hypotheses highlighting social tendencies and trends."

—Andrew Hacker, Queens College

AFRICAN AMERICAN MOTHERS AND URBAN SCHOOLS

The Power of Participation

Wendy Glasgow Winters

“Professor Winters, while challenging stereotypes about the capacity of the poor to change and grow, certainly does not gloss over the major barriers and constraints to self-improvement and self-efficacy for these women. As she points out, many of these women are single parents with few resources, few support systems, and few opportunities to develop their potential skills and abilities. Despite these barriers, Winters's book is a testament to the strength, the willpower, and the indomitable courage of these African-American women who, by participating actively to improve their children's education, stretched themselves to achieve new goals and redefined their world view to change their environment.”

ANTI-PRIMITIVISM AND THE DECLINE OF THE WEST

The Social Cost of Cultural Ignorance

Volume One: The Primitive and the Supernatural

Volume Two: The Failure of Christianity, Progress, and Democracy

The work explains that the West, in an act of cultural ignorance, obliterated primitive civilizations everywhere in the names of Christianity and Progress. They were not exterminated -- or better, absorbed -- in the name of democracy, because the latter was for the white man only and was thought too exotic for the primitive to grasp. From a scholarly point of view, if the idea of Progress has failed, it will eventually cause the failure of democracy. That idea has to be dealt with on at least three levels, i.e., the Third World where there are almost no prospects; Russia and eastern Europe where success with a free market economy is dubious; and, finally, here where, under democracy and diverse ethnic and religious groups, we seem unable to solve basic and vital issues. Any librarian whose collection includes Oswald Spengler's The Decline of the West and Edward Said's Orientalism will want to add the present work.

Mizuta, Kazuo

THE STRUCTURES OF EVERYDAY LIFE IN JAPAN IN THE LAST DECADE OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

"... brilliantly interrelates Japanese and Western soci-cultural modes, and provides techniques of explication that are distinctive and highly innovative. . . . has immense value both as a teaching text, to introduce Japanese culture to students, and also for the specialist in comparative culture and society. . . . one of the most brilliant analyses of contemporary Japanese culture and society I have read to date. Not only will this book stand admirably in the company of major classics in its field: it will initiate new directions in the study of inter-cultural discourse. Mizuta's paradigm of complementary intellectual and emotional/aesthetic forms of expression has long been needed by scholars of Japanese culture in the West. Once in a generation a book sets a standard by means of which all subsequent research in its areas will have to be measured: this is the book for our generation." -- Ila Goody, York University, in Scholarly Research and Review
