PICK YOUR OWN SPONSORSHIP

As we continue to grapple with effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, ongoing economic challenges, and social upheaval, ASA's Pick Your Own Sponsorship initiative responds to the significant financial needs some members are facing. It is also an effort to keep the association strong during a time when ASA's mission to serve sociologists in their work, advance sociology as a science and profession, and promote the contributions and use of sociology to society could not be more urgent. Take a sponsorship if you need one, give a sponsorship if you can. The ethos of the Pick Your Own Sponsorship initiative is simple: "When we pull together, we all win."

I'll take a 30% sponsorship	I'll take a 20% sponsorship	I'll take a 10% sponsorship	No thanks, I'm just going to pay my dues	I'll give 10% extra to provide sponsorships	I'll give 20% extra to provide sponsorships	I'll give 30% extra to provide sponsorships

ASA COMMUNITY MEMBERSHIP

Communities are member-initiated, ASA-supported groups that are free for any interested ASA member to join. Communities create spaces for groups of members with common professional backgrounds or common identities to connect with one another for a variety of purposes including networking, asking for and offering professional advice, professional development activities, and Annual Meeting-related events. For more information on ASA Communities, click here. Please select the communities you would like to join. There is no cost to join a community and you may join as many communities as you would like.

SECTION MEMBERSHIP

Sections are groups of sociologists who share a common interest in a specific topic. They are great for networking with colleagues and keeping up with new developments in your area of specialization. Sections write newsletters, conduct sessions and host receptions at the Annual Meeting, and help their members engage year-round through ASA listservs, websites, and social media outlets. For additional information on ASA sections, see <http://www.asanet.org/sections>. Select section memberships below by checking the corresponding box. Only those who selected the “Not employed” or “Under $30,000” dues rates above are eligible for low income section dues. Please enter the total cost for all desired sections on the Section Amount line beneath the table.

ASA CODE OF ETHICS

The American Sociological Association's Code of Ethics sets forth the principles and ethical standards that underlie sociologists' professional responsibilities and conduct. These principles and standards constitute normative statements for sociologists and provide guidance on issues that sociologists may encounter in their professional lives. As a member of the American Sociological Association, I agree to uphold both the general principles and specific ethical standards delineated in the ASA Code of Ethics.

By checking this box and submitting this form with payment for membership in the ASA, I indicate my agreement to uphold both the general principles and specific ethical standards delineated in the ASA Code of Ethics.

DEMOGRAPHIC INFORMATION

ASA has an explicit commitment to diversity and inclusion. Collecting demographic information is one expression of that commitment. We use demographic data to conduct statistical analyses and report findings with aggregate data in which individuals cannot be identified. Much of the data ASA collects is driven by the needs of ASA committees and other ASA groups. Over time, specific questions and response choices will likely evolve. We use individual-level demographic information to provide relevant committees and individuals a confidential resource to diversify candidates for volunteer positions within ASA. If you do not wish your information to be used for these purposes, select, "Prefer not to state" for each question below.

Responses are required for all questions in this section. Incomplete responses will result in delayed processing.
